State Board Takes Action To Avoid Welfare Fund Cut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The controlling board acted today to relieve Ohio's welfare crisis.

All five members voted for transfer of $4 million for immediate use in state payments to aid the blind, dependent children, the disabled, old age pensioners and those on poor relief.

But the board tied a string to its approval. Members said transfers should be made only after certification by Finance Director

James H. Maloon that the money is available in the state treasury.

Clinton V. Oster, assistant to Maloon who presided at the meeting, said the treasury balance had only $850,000 in cash as of Thursday. He said about $14 million in revenue payments was expected before mid-December.

Members said there would be some delay in early December welfare payments but that the situation should soon right itself.

Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, senate finance committee chairman, said the transfer of funds appropriated for future use, to meet current emergencies, was like playing Russian roulette.

"I refuse to subscribe to a policy of fund juggling," he told the board. "If the governor refuses to cut back I intend to call him before this board and have him explain how he expects to make the future payments."

Welfare Director Mary Gorman asked the controlling board to make fourth quarter welfare appropriations available now. But three board members said they needed more time to consider the request, and action was postponed until today.

Finance Director James H. Maloon, the governor's representative on the controlling board, said the requested transfer of funds would have to be made up from appropriations for the next fiscal year if it left fourth quarter funds short.

The welfare department had written city and county officials that "poor relief reimbursement will be reduced from the customary 47.8 per cent level to approximately 2.3 per cent of reimbursable disbursements" if the controlling board fails to act.

Deddens said some officials took that to mean that poor relief payments, instead of state reimbursement to counties, would be cut to 2.3 per cent.

"That was a deception," the senator asserted.

"It was no deception," Mrs. Gorman insisted.

The welfare director repeated a warning made to the board two weeks ago that failure to approve the transfer would force cuts in state payments to aid dependent children, the blind and the disabled.

She added that old age pensions would have to be trimmed and that reimbursement to counties for poor relief expenditures would be sharply reduced.

Use of Schools As Fallout Shelters Talked

Civil Defense Chiefs See Federal Funds Paying Part of Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Defense planners are looking to the use of shelter-adapted schools as key refuge centers in the event a nuclear attack should come at night.

Schools often are the only suitable structures for this purpose in residential areas, the officials said today.

For this reason, it is believed the Pentagon's Civil Defense office is considering the possibility that the federal government pay part of the cost of adapting schools as shelters.

Officials said there is a popular misconception that shelters must be underground to be effective against fallout. On the contrary, they said, multistory buildings provide excellent protection.

Preliminary surveys have indicated there is plenty of shelter space in suburban residential areas. That's where the schools come in.

The shelter areas in the schools would have to be equipped with proper ventilation facilities and stocked with emergency supplies. The schools could be of greater benefit in event of attack at night when downtown areas are mostly vacated.

The Civil Defense office has conducted several pilot operations in marking and identifying spaces in public and private buildings that could serve as fallout shelters.

The marking-identifying program is about to get going on a nationwide scale. Congress voted $169 million for this and for stocking the selected areas with food and other supplies. This phase of the program is expected to be finished by about July. Officials estimated that these areas might provide protection for about 50 million people.

Ohio Education Group Studies Anti-Red Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Education Association had a hot-potato issue in its lap today. The OEA's delegate assembly was to vote on whether to study the so-called "Spirit of '76" law requiring teaching of Americanism before students can be taught communism.

The Ohio law, which got its nickname because it originated as House Bill 76, has been the target of many educators. They claim teaching subjects in Americanism can be taught better by simultaneously showing the evils of communism.

They argue there is no better way to show the meaning of freedom of speech and the Bill of Rights than by pointing to places in the world where those things don't exist.

A resolution calling for an OEA committee to study the law was offered by the Akron Education Association. It proposes that the committee report to the 1962 OEA convention which would then make recommendations to the 1963 state legislature.

A similar resolution was presented by the Mahoning County Education Association.

Mayor-Elect Penn Emphasizes Need For City Engineer-Service Director

The service director is a key to many of the city's most pressing problems. This was the viewpoint strongly stressed today by Circleville Mayor-Elect Richard Penn.

Penn, due to assume office here in January, said one of the most important duties of the mayor is to select a competent service director. The responsibility, he added, rests exclusively with the mayor and no confirmation by Council is necessary.

He termed the mayor as sole supervisor of the service director and noted that no other agency of the city government has any jurisdiction over him.

Penn said his proposal is to appoint a civil engineer as service director, if it is possible to obtain one. Under his plans he said the person selected will, in addition to administrative duties, perform the minor engineering tasks for the service department and the planning commission. They are now performed by outside consultants.

HOW MUCH is the city now spending for the service director and minor engineering tasks? Penn answered this question by saying the salary of the present service director, who considers his post a part-time job, is $4,400 per year.

The Mayor-elect said his survey of minor engineering costs for the service department and the planning commission over the last four years shows a peak annual expenditure of $4,500 per year and an average of $2,600 per year respectively. "Thus the city is now spending $7,000 per year for both functions," he added.

Penn said he has no illusions of replacing outside engineers who will be required for larger engineering jobs. He further added that his survey of engineering costs does not include the outlays for jobs which a service director-engineer cannot be expected to perform.

Bracing his previous statements, Penn said he will ask Council to pass an ordinance providing for a salary of $7,500 for a service director possessing engineering qualifications, providing that the pay will remain at $4,400 for a man without qualifications. "For an engineer-service director, this is not an appreciable increase over what the city is now spending," he emphasized.

Here are some of the advantages of an engineer-service director as listed by the new mayor:

1. When citizens inquire as to city policy, they will find a knowledgeable person in charge.

2. Services of civil engineering will be available on a day-to-day, (Continued on Page 2)

Engineers OK Three Sites in Scioto District

A reservoir on Deer Creek in Pickaway County is one of three major flood control projects approved by Army Engineers for Central Ohio.

The announcement was made here today by John H. Dunlap, Jr., Route 1, Williamsport, a director of the Scioto Conservancy District. The information also was released by District Rep. William H. Harsha.

The Deer Creek Reservoir, planned for an area north of Williamsport and New Holland and extending into Fayette County, is 22 miles above the mouth of Deer Creek.

According to Dunlap and Harsha, the reservoir will create a permanent lake of 670 acres. It will be utilized for water conservancy purposes and will provide recreational uses.

PRESENT plans call for the dam to be 89 feet high and 450 feet long. It will be constructed to handle runoff for 778 square miles of drainage area.

Also approved were the Big Darby Dam in Franklin County and the Paint Creek Reservoir in Ross and Highland Counties. The Darby Dam, a mile long and 101 feet high, will create a permanent lake covering 470 acres and drain an estimated 480 square miles. The Paint Creek Reservoir, 20 miles west of Chillicothe, will include a dam 120 feet high and 1,209 feet long. It will handle drainage from 573 miles to create a lake covering 450 acres.

Dunlap said construction of the dams probably will come about over a period of years. He said no starting date for erection has been set.

The conservancy director also said measures will be taken to prevent land speculation concerning the proposed projects. According to Army Engineers, (Continued on Page 2)

Kiwanis Club Newspaper Due Here Monday

The annual Kiwanis Club newspaper will be distributed in Circleville starting Monday evening.

The paper is a yearly project conducted by the Circleville Kiwanians. Proceeds are used for many youth projects during the year.

First copies of the 1961 edition will be seen at the Common Pleas Courtroom in the Court-house where an auction will be conducted. The first paper sold will go to the highest bidder.

The auction sale annually draws wide interest. The public is invited to participate Monday.

Following the auction, Kiwanians will work in teams for a house-to-house canvass of the city to promote sales.

This year's publication, under the direction of David Hoffman, will consist of 12 pages. Many pictures and interesting stories of Kiwanis activities for the past year are included.

Collecting Bet To Be Difficult

DETROIT (AP)—A man called a Detroit bar and gave Norbert Palin the horses he wanted to bet. Palin wrote it down.

All three horses won and the payoff was worth more than $400.

But the caller still lost, Palin, a policeman, was in the bar to arrest the owner, Damon Fender, 36.

Fender was convicted of engaging in an illegal occupation and released with a suspended sentence. Recorder's Court Judge John Ricca said he figured it would be a fitting punishment for Fender to have to explain to the caller why he won't collect.

U.S. Reds Defy Federal Law

Justice Department Readied for Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officers of the Communist party in the United States have failed to meet the deadline for registering under the Internal Security Act.

This left to the Justice Department the next move in the drawn-out war of nerves between the party and the government.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said earlier this week that the department "will enforce the law."

Last Nov. 20, when the party itself defied a deadline for registering, a department spokesman said officials planned to wait at least until after the time had expired for officers to register before taking action.

That deadline passed at midnight Thursday night. Individual members of the party now have until Dec. 20 to register under the law.

The government has indicated it plans to move against the party first.

The law provides fines up to $10,000 a day for the party for each day of defiance. It provides the same fines—plus prison terms—for officers and individual members who defy the law.

Under the Security Act—fought by party leaders in the courts since its passage in 1950—the party was to have registered as an arm of the Soviet government. It was to list its officers, finances and other details.

The struggle between the government and the party came to a head last Oct. 9, when the Supreme Court refused to reconsider its decision upholding provisions of the 1950 law.

The party has stated many times that it planned to defy the law. The party has denied it is an agent of the Soviet Union and contended it should not be required to register as such.

Judge Advises Father To Paddle Son, Age 50

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A judge advised a man to put his son across his knee and "paddle him, if he doesn't behave."

The father, J. A. Carraway, complained that his son, Melvin, objected to his plans to remarry.

The father is 81, the son 50, the intended bride 56.

Judge John W. Harris gave Carraway his advice, then fined the son $25 for disorderly conduct instead of placing him under a peace bond as the father had requested.

China U.N. Seat Debate Due Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today called on the United Nations to seat Red China immediately in place of what it termed "the miserable clique" of Chinese Nationalists who now represent China.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin blamed the United States for the long impasse over Chinese representation and warned that the Peiping regime has the right to crush Chiang Kai-shek by force, if necessary.

The Chinese Communists, he said, have the full support of the other Communist countries.

Launching the often-postponed debate, Zorin told the General Assembly:

"Take away the American forces from Taiwan, put an end to the American occupation of this island and the clique of Chiang Kai-shek will not stay another day there. It will be wiped away by the hurricane of the people's wrath."

Nationalist China's veteran diplomat, Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang, replied that if the United Nations should ever yield to the demands of the Soviet Union "this world organization would be negating its own principles and ideals."

The United States and other supporters of the Nationalists decided to meet the Soviet demand head-on after getting a cool reception from most other members for their proposal to dump the question back to the next assembly.

A U.S. spokesman said instead a resolution was being placed before the 103-nation assembly to declare the China question an issue of "substance" which will have to be settled by a two-thirds majority.

U.S. delegates believe the Communists will be unable to muster such a vote behind the Red Chinese, even with heavy support from the 49-nation Asian-African group.

The U.S. spokesman said he had a "fairly reasonable expectation" that the Nationalist Chinese would still have their seats at the end of the assembly debate.

Elsewhere in the U.N.: The Soviet Union used the veto in the Security Council to kill a United Arab Republic resolution recommending admission of the oil-rich sheikdom of Kuwait as the U.N.'s 104th member.

Ohio Solon Predicts Tax Boost Coming

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio Republican predicts President Kennedy probably will propose a federal tax program next year that will "have some disagreeable surprises for all taxpayers."

Rep. Tom V. Moorehead of Zanesville cited a predicted deficit of $6.9 billion for fiscal 1962 and said recent administrative economies ordered by the President won't make up the difference.

"Like the aftermath of Christmas, the bills are bound to come in," Moorehead commented.

A look at latest Budget Bureau estimates of spending for fiscal 1962 gives an idea of "the cost of operating the colossus with headquarters in Washington" and "what the chances are for Uncle Sam to make his income stretch to cover his expenses," Moorehead said.

He cited Budget Bureau estimates that military spending for the year will top 1961 by $3.6 billion, the farm program will rise $1.2 billion, the space program $600 million, the conduct of foreign affairs and information programs $486 million, civil defense $153 million.

"How all this is to be paid for is the subject of predictions and speculation," Moorehead said, adding that his guess is the taxpayers will be required to take on a heavier burden.

GIs Have 'Right' To Gripe — But

DETROIT (AP) — "Soldiers have an inherent right to gripe," Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, said Thursday night.

Hershey said at a press conference that "if any Army unit ever did anything without griping he'd either be lying or mutes."

Hershey, in commenting on complaints by National Guardsmen and reservists about conditions at Ft. Lewis, Wash., said "but you can make too much noise. These men have been getting one day's pay for two hours' work each week and the federal government has a right to expect them to show up when it needs them."

U.S. Army Units Roll Over Autobahn Despite Warnings from Red Chiefs

BERLIN (AP)—More American military units rolled over Berlin's autobahn lifeline to the West today in defiance of a Soviet warning that such troop movements could lead to "dangerous consequences."

The Soviets, who control the 110-line superhighway through Communist East Germany, tightened their inspection of U.S. convoys but made no attempt to stop them.

Six vehicles forming the last section of a U.S. convoy which set out for West Germany this morning were halted at the Soviet checkpoint outside West Berlin when the Soviets found an error in their travel documents.

The U.S. autobahn operations officer, Capt. Harry Daniels, was called to straighten out their papers and the three jeeps and three trucks were allowed to go on after an hour and 14 minutes.

The documentation error was believed to be technical and apparently it was cleared up without a dispute.

The first two sections of the 150-may convoy passed through the checkpoint without incident.

Normally the Soviet guards make only a routine count of the men and vehicles described in the travel papers handed them, taking only 20 to 25 minutes.

The U.S. Army has been shutting 150-man units from West Germany to West Berlin, and from West Berlin to West Germany, for brief training periods since soon after the crisis created by the Communist wall dividing Berlin.

The U.S. Army says the rotation is necessary because West Berlin is too cramped for extensive training maneuvers and troops in West Germany need experience under Berlin conditions.

But the traffic is generally considered a demonstration of U.S. determination to maintain its rights on the autobahn.

In the first Soviet protest against the traffic, the Soviet news agency Tass spoke of the "provocative character of this action." It charged that since U.S. troops in West Germany serve the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, their maneuvering in West Berlin "means the inclusion of West Berlin in the aggressive military bloc of NATO."

Meanwhile, U.S. Army headquarters for Europe announced more movements will be made. It said the 1,500-man 1st Battle Group, 19th Infantry, 24th Division will soon move into Berlin from West Germany to replace the 1st Battle Group, 18th Infantry 8th Division.

DiSalle Avoids Another Veto

But Governor Raps GOP as 'Reckless'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—While sharply critical of the Republican legislature, Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today he is allowing two big money bills to become law without his signature.

He called the failure of the GOP lawmakers to meet the financial needs of the state as he sees them "a reckless attitude." DiSalle accused the legislators of "a rather calloused disregard for the inevitable" because they refused to adopt a higher appropriation for '62-63 in the face of his veto of the original money measure for that year.

In order to make his position clear, the governor said he went through the big bill appropriating $1,022,732,811 to run the state for the year starting July 1 and specifically approved items totaling $496.3 million.

He refused to approve a total of $526.3 million on grounds the appropriations for education, welfare, mental health and industrial and economic development are entirely inadequate.

He didn't lay a pen on the $33.4 million bill to authorize state construction in the two-year budget period which started last July 1. But, with reference to that measure, he said in a prepared statement:

"I certainly cannot in good conscience approve the action of the majority (the GOP) in being so totally blind to the needs that are clear to the most uninitiated let alone elected representatives who should be knowledgeable."

"To continue to duck, defer, demure and decay may deceive, but it does not solve our needs," the governor said in his formal statement.

"The inevitable result will be to necessitate increased student fees for those seeking higher education at our state universities; reduce the subsidies for the aged, the dependent child, the blind and the disabled; further dilute an already inadequate program for juveniles; injure the quality of an already inadequate correction program and turn the mental hygiene program into one in which warehousing and custody of patients will take precedence over treatment."

"It may not be the intention of the majority party to penalize the sick or the needy, but its actions will produce this result."

Engineers OK Three Sites in Scioto District

A reservoir on Deer Creek in Pickaway County is one of three major flood control projects approved by Army Engineers for Central Ohio.

The announcement was made here today by John H. Dunlap, Jr., Route 1, Williamsport, a director of the Scioto Conservancy District. The information also was released by District Rep. William H. Harsha.

The Deer Creek Reservoir, planned for an area north of Williamsport and New Holland and extending into Fayette County, is 22 miles above the mouth of Deer Creek.

According to Dunlap and Harsha, the reservoir will create a permanent lake of 670 acres. It will be utilized for water conservancy purposes and will provide recreational uses.

PRESENT plans call for the dam to be 89 feet high and 450 feet long. It will be constructed to handle runoff for 778 square miles of drainage area.

Also approved were the Big Darby Dam in Franklin County and the Paint Creek Reservoir in Ross and Highland Counties. The Darby Dam, a mile long and 101 feet high, will create a permanent lake covering 470 acres and drain an estimated 480 square miles. The Paint Creek Reservoir, 20 miles west of Chillicothe, will include a dam 120 feet high and 1,209 feet long. It will handle drainage from 573 miles to create a lake covering 450 acres.

Dunlap said construction of the dams probably will come about over a period of years. He said no starting date for erection has been set.

The conservancy director also said measures will be taken to prevent land speculation concerning the proposed projects. According to Army Engineers, (Continued on Page 2)

Cause of the blaze was not known.

Ohio Solon Sees No Need To Alter Anti-Red Teaching

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio school children should be given objective instruction in the nature of communism, says Rep. Gordon H. Scherer. But he doesn't believe there is any need to change a Ohio state law requiring that the American ideal be taught first.

The Ohio congressman is the ranking Republican member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Such state groups as the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ohio Historical Society have objected to any change in the law. The Ohio School Boards Association is studying the question. And the Ohio Education Association is expected to consider a proposal to study the question today.

Scherer said in an interview it is "highly essential"—not only in Ohio, but everywhere in the United States—that schools teach about communism and its dangers to the American system.

But, he said, school authorities must "first educate some teachers."

Scherer, of Cincinnati, said military authorities launched seminars on communism because they "obviously felt it hadn't been taught in the schools."

He said objective teaching of the nature of communism is needed to counteract "a fast-growing, cynical segment of the populace which scoffs and sneers at any mention of patriotism."

He said any program for instructing students on the contrasts between communism and this country's system should be "in complete control of the schools." But he added, "We always face the threat of attempted infiltration of education as in every activity of American life and must guard against it."

He said such instruction should emphasize the dual nature of communism as "an economic, political or philosophical way of life" and as "a conspiratorial apparatus."

all of the proposed dams would be rolled earth fill construction with concrete channel sections. The engineer approval means these projects for the Scioto River Basin await congressional - voted funds to start work on engineering design and contract drawings.

J. A. Meckstroth, president of the board of directors of the Scioto Conservancy District, said the action of the Army Engineers makes the dams eligible for congressional appropriation.

THE ACTION advances the project another step toward actuality, he pointed out.

The Conservancy District also is working on a Scioto Valley flood control plan. The Army's objective is 50 per cent for the benefit of the Ohio Valley, while the Ohio River will be only incidental to the local objective of flood control in the Scioto Valley.

Meckstroth pointed out that therefore, the Conservancy District plans may call for bigger, and perhaps more, dams than the Army plans.

Then the officials of the Army and the District will meet and negotiate to arrive at a common plan. There will be a joint study of the problems.

The Army Engineer plans for the three dams were based on studies that have been going on for some time.

full time base rather than on a "when available" or "when called basis." At present the city does not use engineering skills as much as is needed, due to high cost for a survey crew or engineer to come here from Columbus.

The fact that there is an $80 charge for a curb and gutter survey makes this service less available to citizens. Often when a problem is presented, engineers are not called because there is no recognition of their skills.

3. Advance planning of street building, maintenance and cleaning will be possible with the skills of a civil engineer. Contrary to popular belief, Council has practically no control over the service director by virtue of the appropriation ordinance. This is because funds allotted him must be made for an entire year and in very general categories.

Actually Council has given the service director a blank check for the entire year. What materials will be used, number of employees, what streets and alleys are to be repaired and how much effort will be spent on street cleaning is up to him.

How far can street funds be expected to go? Consequently, it is necessary to wait until the year's end to see what has been accomplished. Then it is too late to change the program if it is wrong.

Citizens should be informed in advance by street plans made early in the year which will allow opportunities for public hearing. An engineer - service director can accomplish this.

4. The MASTER PLAN can be advanced. The master plan consists of a capital improvement budget and regulatory ordinances properly enforced. The city currently has the zoning ordinance, which enjoin enforcement upon the service director or his delegate. The present service director does not make the necessary inspection in connection with building permits to see that it is enforced.

What incentive is there for Council to produce ordinances which are to be neglected? The engineer service - director will be in a position to head up these various inspection programs if Council adopts the Master Plan in its entirety and will be able to assist in a capital improvement budget.

5. A system of preventive maintenance and cleaning of the sanitary sewer collecting system is possible. At the present the service department goes into operation only when citizens report flooded basements. It is better to have prevented the flooding by a systematic method of cleaning and maintenance. An engineer would be most helpful in planning this work.

6. As a member of the planning commission, an engineer will increase its effectiveness.

Penn said the importance of the service director's job may be illustrated by a look at where the authority of government lies, pointing out that Council is legislative only and without executive or administrative powers.

If ordinances are to be carried out, he added, chances are it will be the service director's job to do so. The fact that consulting engineers are in the picture does not dispense his obligation to expedite and coordinate these projects.

Named as defendants in the suit are Katherine Johnson of Route 1, Orient, executrix of the estate, and her husband, Owen; Joyce Graft, Grace Korbel of Columbus and Robert E. Wright, Mt. Sterling lawyer and executor of the will.

The Johnsons were the major beneficiaries of the Shockley will, which was admitted to probate here July 13. The will dividing an estate of approximately $30,000 had been drawn Feb. 2. The codicil was drawn June 24.

THE ACTION advances the project another step toward actuality, he pointed out.

The Conservancy District also is working on a Scioto Valley flood control plan. The Army's objective is 50 per cent for the benefit of the Ohio Valley, while the Ohio River will be only incidental to the local objective of flood control in the Scioto Valley.

Meckstroth pointed out that therefore, the Conservancy District plans may call for bigger, and perhaps more, dams than the Army plans.

Then the officials of the Army and the District will meet and negotiate to arrive at a common plan. There will be a joint study of the problems.

The Army Engineer plans for the three dams were based on studies that have been going on for some time.

full time base rather than on a "when available" or "when called basis." At present the city does not use engineering skills as much as is needed, due to high cost for a survey crew or engineer to come here from Columbus.

The fact that there is an $80 charge for a curb and gutter survey makes this service less available to citizens. Often when a problem is presented, engineers are not called because there is no recognition of their skills.

3. Advance planning of street building, maintenance and cleaning will be possible with the skills of a civil engineer. Contrary to popular belief, Council has practically no control over the service director by virtue of the appropriation ordinance. This is because funds allotted him must be made for an entire year and in very general categories.

Actually Council has given the service director a blank check for the entire year. What materials will be used, number of employees, what streets and alleys are to be repaired and how much effort will be spent on street cleaning is up to him.

How far can street funds be expected to go? Consequently, it is necessary to wait until the year's end to see what has been accomplished. Then it is too late to change the program if it is wrong.

Citizens should be informed in advance by street plans made early in the year which will allow opportunities for public hearing. An engineer - service director can accomplish this.

4. The MASTER PLAN can be advanced. The master plan consists of a capital improvement budget and regulatory ordinances properly enforced. The city currently has the zoning ordinance, which enjoins enforcement upon the service director or his delegate. The present service director does not make the necessary inspection in connection with building permits to see that it is enforced.

What incentive is there for Council to produce ordinances which are to be neglected? The engineer service - director will be in a position to head up these various inspection programs if Council adopts the Master Plan in its entirety and will be able to assist in a capital improvement budget.

5. A system of preventive maintenance and cleaning of the sanitary sewer collecting system is possible. At the present the service department goes into operation only when citizens report flooded basements. It is better to have prevented the flooding by a systematic method of cleaning and maintenance. An engineer would be most helpful in planning this work.

6. As a member of the planning commission, an engineer will increase its effectiveness.

Penn said the importance of the service director's job may be illustrated by a look at where the authority of government lies, pointing out that Council is legislative only and without executive or administrative powers.

If ordinances are to be carried out, he added, chances are it will be the service director's job to do so. The fact that consulting engineers are in the picture does not dispense his obligation to expedite and coordinate these projects.

Three nieces of a Pickaway County woman who died June 28 have filed a petition in the Clerk of Courts office contesting both what is alleged to be her last will and testament and a codicil to that document drawn up four days before she died.

Esther Williamson and Ruth Lohr of Warren and Mary Graft of near Vienna in Trumbull County asked, through their attorneys Tom A. Renick and Allen Berger, that the will and codicil, a modifying instrument, of Ida M. Shockley of Darby Twp. be set aside by the Common Pleas Court.

Named as defendants in the suit are Katherine Johnson of Route 1, Orient, executrix of the estate, and her husband, Owen; Joyce Graft, Grace Korbel of Columbus and Robert E. Wright, Mt. Sterling lawyer and executor of the will.

The Johnsons were the major beneficiaries of the Shockley will, which was admitted to probate here July 13. The will dividing an estate of approximately $30,000 had been drawn Feb. 2. The codicil was drawn June 24.

Blood Vessels Are Mapped

X-Ray Dyes Used To Prevent Strokes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mapping blood vessels by shooting X-ray-opaque dyes into arteries of the neck and upper chest as a step toward prevention of paralyzing or fatal strokes was described Wednesday by a San Francisco surgeon.

The surgeon, Dr. F. William Blaisdell, chief of surgery of the Veterans Administration hospital here, told of a consecutive series study of 100 patients subjected to the diagnostic procedure called pan cerebral arteriography.

He made his report to the Western Surgical Association on the opening of its 69th annual session.

The patients showed signs of insufficient blood supply to the head. The mapping showed that about one-third of them had diseased blood vessels in the neck or chest, Dr. Blaisdell said. In another third, the vascular involvement was in the head. No vascular lesion was observed in the others.

Another surgeon, Dr. Richard W. Zollinger of Columbus, Ohio, described diagnosis and treatment of thrombophlebitis, blood clotting in veins of the leg. He used data from 1,017 cases at Ohio State University Hospital and Mount Carmel Hospital in Columbus.

Tying off or removing of the veins is generally recommended for superficial thrombophlebitis, diseased veins near the skin, said Dr. Zollinger, who is director of surgery at Mount Carmel and associate professor of surgery at Ohio State.

Superficial thrombophlebitis usually involves varicose (enlarged, knotty) veins, the surgeon said, adding that about 20 per cent of the population has such veins. He said the mortality rate in thrombophlebitis is about 6 per cent.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev, despite all the heat over Berlin, have kept their own personal relationship as restrained as a minuet.

Nevertheless, the No. 1 mystery is why Khrushchev has quieted down.

The mee 1g between the two men in Vienna last June 3-4 was, on the surface, a pleasant session in which they sought to know each other. Underneath it was about as tough as a meeting can be.

It was there, face to face with Kennedy, that Khrushchev began the Berlin crisis by demanding the city be henceforth "free." He predicted the eventual triumph of communism through wars of "liberation."

For months afterward Khrushchev worked overtime to force Kennedy back on his heels with speeches, talks, bomb-warnings, building the Berlin wall and, finally, resuming nuclear tests.

Kennedy, reporting on his meeting when he returned home, said the United States would stand firm. He added that Khrushchev should not be blamed for all the world's troubles, outlined a program to resist communism everywhere, and began a military buildup.

Since then Kennedy has talked repeatedly of his determination not to let Khrushchev get away with Berlin.

But never, in all this long-range and often long-winded dialogue, has either man said an unfriendly or derogatory word about the other. This has left the door open for future reasonable dealings.

Khrushchev even sent his newspaperman son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, over here to interview Kennedy at White House request, giving the President a chance to state his position in full in the Russian government newspaper, Izvestia.

Khrushchev had the same relationship with President Eisenhower until the American U2 spy plane, brought down over Russia, embarrassed him. Then he belittled Eisenhower and broke up the 1960 summit meeting.

In the current situation, this is the big puzzle.

Why Khrushchev, from about the time the 22nd Communist party congress met in Moscow last October, suddenly quieted down on Berlin and even postponed indefinitely the deadline for a settlement which he wanted by year's end.

There have been suggestions he did it because he was having so much trouble at home.

That makes no sense. He was master of the congress, got endorsement for humiliating old die-hard Bolsheviks like Molotov, and so thoroughly discredited the image of Stalin that the old dictator's body was removed from its tomb.

A more reasonable assumption might be that he had so much work to do at the congress that he needed a vacation from Berlin.

Nor could his troubles with Red China and tiny Albania, which seem to think he's not aggressive enough, look like a factor in cooling off his ardor on Berlin. He's not about to have war with Red China. Albania hardly counts.

It would be more reasonable to think Kennedy's show of determination persuaded Khrushchev not to push the Berlin business to an explosion.

Any suggestion about Khrushchev's motive for quieting down on Berlin is sheer guessing.

Here is another: That when he put up the wall shutting off West Berlin from East Berlin—and the West failed to do anything about it—he had won a major point anyway and could relax.

Meaning: He wanted to make the West acknowledge that communism completely controls East Germany and East Berlin—and the West isn't going to do anything about it. By bowing to the reality of the wall, the West admitted his point.

From the very beginning of this dispute the Russians have told the West in effect that the two Germanies were not going to be reunited. Recently Kennedy admitted this was so, as long as the Russians wanted to keep them separate.

Rayburn Will Due To Aid His Library

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Nearly all the estate left by House Speaker Sam Rayburn will go to two sisters, a brother and the library he established.

Value of the property wasn't estimated in the will, filed for probate here Tuesday.

Rayburn, 79, died of cancer Nov. 16.

Virtually all the estate eventually will be turned over to the Sam Rayburn Library Foundation, which operates the library he built here.

Mrs. S. E. Bartley of Bonham, a sister, will receive the Rayburn home in Bonham. At her death it will pass to the foundation.

A 153-acre farm goes to a brother, Richard Rayburn, and his wife, for their lifetime. It will then be sold. Two-thirds of the proceeds are assigned to the library and the rest to unspecified charitable institutions.

Rayburn's ranch north of Bonham is to be sold and $1,000 each given to nieces, nephews and their children, plus $1,500 or a year's pay to a ranch worker, J. H. Henson.

Mrs. Bartley will get 40 per cent of the remaining money from the ranch; another sister, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas, 30 per cent, and Richard Rayburn 30 per cent. The three are sole executors of the will.

The steer champion, named Jack, had an official weight today of 1,050 pounds. That meant a sale price of $14,700. When Jack won the title Monday his weight was given as 930 pounds.

The record price for a grand champion steer at the International is $30 a pound, paid in 1957. Last year's grand champion, shown by a 15-year-old 4-H Club girl, Kaye Pollock of Mount Auburn, Iowa, brought $15 a pound and a total of $17,690.

X-Ray Cruiser Due for Visit

The Pickaway County Tuberculosis and Health Association announced today that the Mobile X-ray Unit will visit several centrally located points within the county beginning Wednesday.

Free chest X-rays will be available to all residents of the county during the four-day visit of the mobile unit.

The unit will be stationed in Williamsport from 1-5 p. m. and 6-7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Ashville will be the location of the unit on Thursday. Hours for free chest X-rays are: 10 a. m. until noon; 2-5 p. m.; and 7-9:30 p. m.

THE mobile unit will be in Circleville all day Friday and Saturday on the corner of Court and Mains Sts. Hours for both days will be: 10:30 a. m. to 1 p. m., 2-5 p. m. and 7-9:30 p. m.

The local TB Association has urged all adults to have an X-ray taken during the visit of the Christmas Seal sponsored mobile unit.

Cafeteria workers, food booth helpers, restaurant workers and all other persons involved in handling food are required by law to have an annual chest X-ray.

The visit is financed entirely by the sale of Christmas Seals. Seals already have been mailed to nearly all residents of Pickaway County.

TB Association officials said the cost of this X-ray service is approximately $1.10 per person. The money is provided by the purchase of seals.

Wilmington Raises Student Charges

WILMINGTON, — In order to improve its faculty and library services, Wilmington College will increase its tuition fees effective in September, 1962, it was announced today by President James M. Read.

The increase of $2 per semester hour, or $32 per semester for a 16-hour load, will be used for expansion of the library including book purchases, additions to the faculty, increments in faculty salaries and additions to the staff and maintenance services.

Wilmington's present rate of $25 per semester hour was established in 1959. In a comparison with the rates of 18 other small and medium-sized Ohio colleges, Wilmington now ranks 15th on the list in tuition and fees.

Benjamin Is Safe

BENJAMIN, Tex. (AP)—This West Texas town recently got a new sheriff, a new deputy and a new Texas Ranger — and now it may be the most protected spot in Texas.

Benjamin, which only has 300 residents, is county seat of Knox County.

Recently the county sheriff, Homer T. Melton, resigned to become a Texas Ranger. Deputy H. C. Stone was appointed sheriff and hired a new deputy, Kenneth LaMascus. Then the state, wanting a Ranger in that area, assigned Melton to his home town.

Ad, although you can't go to the movies in Benjamin, find a drug store or get a tooth pulled, man, you sure can get arrested.

Maritime shipping, a major source of income for many coastal nations, has been a losing enterprise in the United States for many years. A dwindling maritime industry has brought with it a state of depression in American shipyards and curtailed employment of American nationals in the shipping industry.

Direct government subsidy has kept the American maritime fleet from disappearing in the years since World War II, but decline of the fleet has only been slowed by this device. With world shipping at an all-time high and likely to continue a steady pace of increase in the years ahead, the United States is forfeiting a sizable income from an industry ideally suited to its geographic location.

From several sources in recent weeks have come reports of the device which may rescue the fleet from its doldrums and again place it in a position of importance, possibly within the next decade. That device is automation.

Operating costs, not ship design or lack of ocean freight, prevent U. S. ships from competing with strong fleets from the Scandinavian countries and lands which capitalize on the registry of ships built and owned by other nations. Greater efficiency and higher competence alone cannot meet competition from ship sem-ploying crews at one - fourth American pay rates.

Maritime automation has been discussed for many years, and several research projects have been undertaken to determine what degree of automation would be desirable to place U. S. vessels in a competitive position. From these privately an d government financed research activities have come the first concrete proposals for ships of the future.

Sinclair Refining Co. has plans to build the first partially automated freighter, a 51,000 ton oil carrier. Normally this type vessel would carry a crew of 50 men, but the new design will permit engine room control from the bridge, with 50 per cent reduction in crew.

Although an additional investment of more than $1 million will be required for the complicated system of electronic controls and computers required to maintain a predetermined course, conventional investments for crew quarters, safety equipment and service facilities will be offsetting savings.

Thus, though the initial investment will remain roughly the same, normal operating expenses of approximately $500,000 annually will be cut in half. If these preliminary figures prove themselves in actual operation, the U. S. maritime industry may find a new and brighter dawn approaching.

Quest for Certainty Is Hard

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the penalties of middle age is that a man hardly knows what to believe anymore.

The quest for certainty gets harder and harder.

As a youth one is taught certain truths and values that are supposed to be enduring and guide you all through life. But as you grow older you find that many things you were taught as facts when you were young are now regarded as errors — or superstitions.

You were taught that a wise man never bought anything until he could pay for it in cash. Now if you aren't in hock up to your ears with a loan company you are regarded as a threat to the national economy.

Many a farmer never planted his crops until the moon was right. Now he never plants at all—unless the wind is right from Washington.

It was patriotic to be patriotic. Now love of country is a sign of nationalism, and nationalism is held to be the greatest obstacle to world peace and unity.

A dancer prided himself on his ability to do a graceful waltz. Now you're a wallflower unless you're willing to get out on the floor, roll your eyes and twist yourself into a pretzel.

A father was a symbol of family authority and the recognized head of the house. Now he's the mousey fellow who comes home once a week with his paycheck in his mouth but isn't supposed to open his yap about how the place is run.

An atom was some kind of a little mystery you read about in your high school physics or chemistry textbook. Now it is a giant that terrifies the whole human race.

If you were 10 pounds underweight you worried about getting tuberculosis. Now if you're 10 ounces overweight you worry about getting a heart attack.

If you were 10 minutes late to work the boss threatened to fire you. Now if he doesn't give you two 15-minute coffee breaks a day you threaten to report him to the union.

If a man drank in public he was regarded as a victim of vice. Now doctors tell you a couple of cocktails before dinner are good for what ails you.

What can a middle-aged person believe in?

Well, there's always motherhood and the need for a larger federal highway program; and death and taxes—and that's about it.

Meaningless Term

By George Sokolsky

I am asked by M. J. Crawford of Ridgewood, New Jersey, to define an "extreme rightist." The questioner wonders what President Kennedy meant when he referred to such a speech in California.

Unfortunately, it is a meaningless term, just as "extreme left" would be meaningless. No one can accurately define such terms. It is unfortunate that President Kennedy did not use a more precise phrase.

Any thinking people divide themselves into various segments of thought and response to public questions. Let us define some of them as they now exist:

1. The Middle-of-the-Roaders are those who always go along with what at the moment is popular and acceptable. When Eisenhower was President, they held that whatever Eisenhower said was inspired; now, they hold that whatever Kennedy says is inspired. They are never wrong because they never differ from the popular. They serve any master who seeks their service;

2. Among those who are not so pliable are many who hold differing principles of life. These may range on what is called the Right from 19th century Liberals who fear the spread of the power of government to conservatives who wish to preserve the traditions of the country to reactionaries to whom all changes are repugnant; and on what is called the Left are those who would accelerate change and reform at various rates of speed to the Communists who would destroy our system of life and adopt Marxism.

When President Kennedy refers to the Right Extremists, he could mean such groups as the John Birch Society or the Minutemen who decide to recognize the course of events since 1914 and the vast changes that have already occurred in this country. They sincerely would like to live in the world as it existed when they were born; they would like to ignore the drastic social and economic changes that have taken place since they were born. They find these changes hateful. They opposed Franklin D. Roosevelt and they refuse to recognize that the New Deal did manage to make a violent change in our lives.

President Kennedy finds such groups distasteful because they are unrealistic. They fail to recognize that the Marxist movement throughout the world altered many of the accepted ways of life. Their children and grandchildren can describe these changes and their effects upon them. For instance, they can tell their elders that whenever they have to consider marriage, college, careers, any phase of life, they must consider the prospect of war, the menace of war, the delays that war will bring to their lives. The younger generation cannot go back to 1900.

President Kennedy is himself of this younger generation. He has been to war. His back has been broken by war. He has made a success in life but he knows how many of his colleagues and friends have become permanently crippled pled by war; he knows how many of them received "Dear John" letters; he knows the heart-break of unsatisfied aspirations.

But what undoubtedly shocks him is that the next generation to him, the youngsters, are conservatives to a greater or lesser degree. This younger generation rejects the clichés and truisms of the Liberals, the mouthings of the New Dealers. They seek to relate their ideals of progress to historic memory.

Just as the radicalism of the 1930's shocked the elders of that period, so the conservatism of youth today shocks the balding middle-aged of the 1930's. Adlai Stevenson may have been regarded as a philosopher of the 1940's but in the 1960's youth seeks clearer definitions, a review of the relations of science and religion. They do not quote Thorstein Veblen or John Maynard Keynes, but they know such names as Martin Buber and Sydney Hook. Just as their forbears knew Howard Fast, so today the youngsters know of William Buckley.

Just as their forbears laughed at God, so do they in this period try to discover God. The world has changed, as it always changes, from generation to generation and only those stand still who are blinded and have grown deaf.

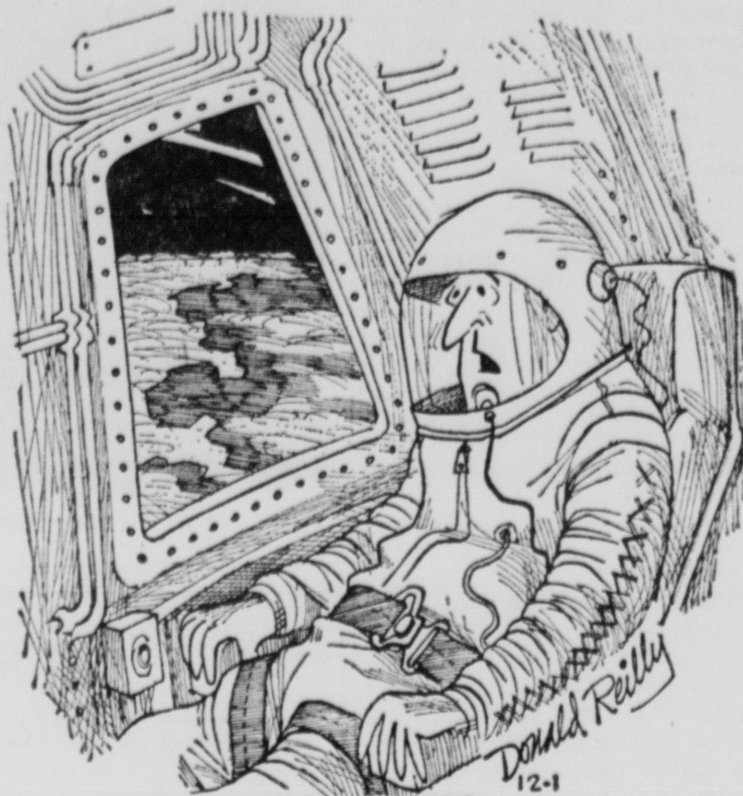

Thus, when President Kennedy speaks of the Extreme Rightists, he was disclosing the beginnings of grey hairs. He is moving to the middle of the road and will have to re-think his youth. It comes to all of us and when it reaches him, we shall have a stronger and more understanding man.

Try and Stop Me

TWO GABBY MATRONS in a New England town were gossiping endlessly on a party-line telephone, when they were suddenly interrupted by the unmistakable sound of a receiver being slammed down on the hook.

"Well, how do you like that?" snorted one of the talkers indignantly. "Somebody's hung up on us!"

A customer beckoned the bartender in a Las Vegas gaming room. "Can you change a fifty dollar bill?" he inquired. "My wife's playing the slot machines."

"Sure thing," nodded the bartender. "How do you want it?"

"Humph," mused the customer. "Shall we say two bucks in quarters—and the rest in drinks?"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Doubting Thomas: Do you really need a specimen? It's such a nuisance!

M. D.: Yes! Kidneys pour out hidden health secrets that few people know about.

D. T.: How can you tell?

M. D.: By looking! Dark amber may mean early jaundice or late dehydration. Beets and bleeding can reddens specimens. Smoky cloudiness often hides bleeding or infection.

D. T.: All this without opening the bottle?

M. D.: More! Raging diabetes and ailing kidneys often pour out colorless fluid. Sugary specimens are thick and heavy; ailing kidneys — unable to concentrate fluid — drain almost pure water.

D. T.: Are acid specimens bad?

M. D.: No, normal. Acidity sometimes pinpoints the invading germ in raging bladder infections. Carbon dioxide — trapped in your system by emphysema — increases body acidity.

To regulate this excess, kidneys pour out a strongly acid product.

D. T.: How about albumin?

M. D.: Bleeding and infection anywhere can pour protein — albumin — into the specimen. Ailments like nephritis, high blood pressure and back pressure from failing hearts may force protein through usually closed kidney pores.

If you stand slouched, gravity may drag down albumin. A special protein sometimes signals hidden cancer.

D. T.: And a microscope tells you more?

M. D.: Yes! It uncovers bleeding and infection too tiny for the naked eye. Bleeding from bruises, poisoning, tumors and scraping kidney stones! Remember that protein from anywhere?

D. T.: Yes.

M. D.: Microscopic molds shaped like tiny kidney tubes announce that protein poured through the kidney.

D. T.: Anything else?

M. D.: Lots! Crystals that warn about sulfa drug danger. Others that predict stunted growth. The list goes on and on!

D. T.: Imagine! All without ever examining me!

M. D.: I wouldn't say that. This specimen is part of you that we take to the lab to examine!

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Silver and gold—paper money and credit — the seesaw relationship of the U. S. dollar to the British pound and the Canadian dollar and the German mark and the Swiss franc.

These are all parts—and after confusing parts—of the big international monetary problem that the central bankers of the Western world are trying to solve.

Their aim is to achieve some stability in world currencies an world trade, to halt or minimize the spasmodic runs on the dollar or pound with an accompanying rush to buy and hoard gold, to keep trade between nations in better balance and thus promote the economic growth of all.

The parts often confuse, even hide, the whole.

Right now the headlines center on these items:

1. The proposed U. S. move away from silver as a backing for part of its currency. The first result is a big upward push in silver prices on the commodity market, with much fluctuation expected to follow.

2. Fresh losses of gold by the U. S. Treasury as Britain buys the metal with spare dollars to bolster Bank of England reserves and protect the pound, recently under attack because of its foreign trade deficit.

3. The drop of the Canadian dollar below 96 American cents for the first time in 10 years.

All of these are expected to have political repercussions here and abroad.

President Kennedy's proposal to demonetize silver entirely, except for coins, by substituting Federal Reserve notes for some $2 billion in paper money now backed by silver seems sure to stir up the embers of historic monetary disputes in Congress.

The loss of gold by the U. S. Treasury is linked to our balance of payment deficit. We are spending more dollars overseas than we are getting back. And efforts to remedy this is stirring up one of the biggest fights in years in Congress over tariffs. Should they be lowered in return for concessions abroad on American exports? Should they be raised to protect domestic industries from foreign imports?

Some experts are suggesting a solution to the many financial problems can be found in establishing an international monetary unit—whether as currency or as central bank credit—to handle exchange procedures, bolster any temporarily threatened national currency, and keep all on as even a keel as possible in this changing world.

But through all these problems there run strong threads of nationalism and national pride.

The chances are the immediate troubles will be trashed out in the upcoming session of the U. S. Congress, in the British House of Commons, in the capitals of the Western European trading bloc.

And all the while you'll be hearing a lot about gold and silver, about tariffs and trade deficits, about possible devaluations of this or that monetary unit, about the flow of short-term investment money from one trading center to another, about spurts of buying or selling of monetary metals in world markets.

pled by war; he knows how many of them received "Dear John" letters; he knows the heart-break of unsatisfied aspirations.

But what undoubtedly shocks him is that the next generation to his, the youngsters, are conservatives to a greater or lesser degree. This younger generation rejects the clichés and truisms of the Liberals, the mouthpieces of the New Dealers. They seek to relate their ideals of progress to historic memory.

Just as the radicalism of the 1930's shocked the elders of that period, so the conservatism of youth today shocks the balding middle-aged of the 1930's. Adlai Stevenson may have been regarded as a philosopher of the 1940's but in the 1960's youth seeks clearer definitions, a review of the relations of science and religion. They do not quote Thorstein Veblen or John Maynard Keynes, but they know such names as Martin Buber and S y d n e y Hook. Just as their forbears knew Howard Fast, so today the youngsters know of William Buckley.

Just as their forbears laughed at God, so do they in this period try to discover God. The world has changed, as it always changes, from generation to generation and only those stand still who are blinded and have grown deaf.

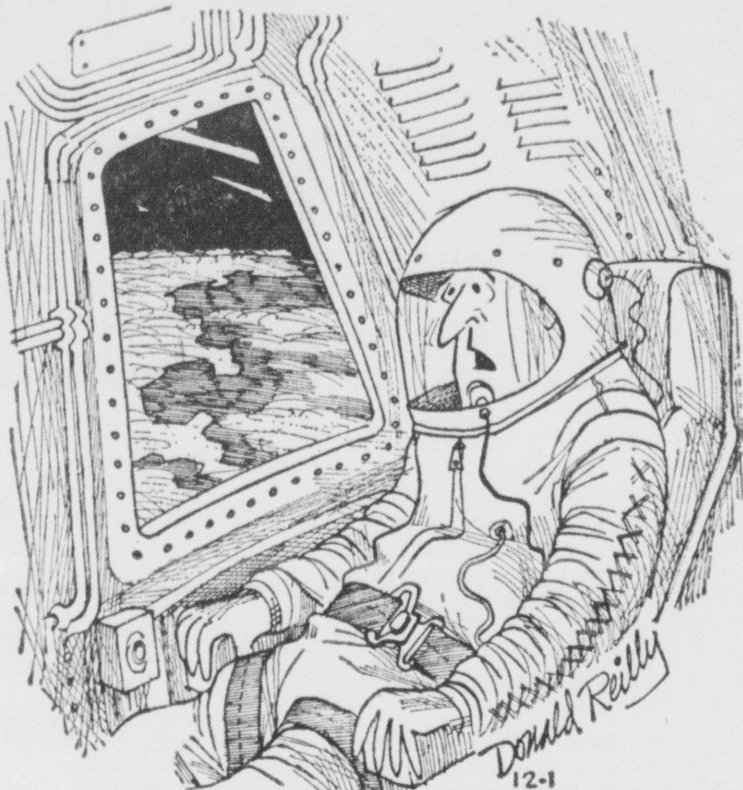

Thus, when President Kennedy speaks of the Extreme Rightists, he was disclosing the beginnings of grey hairs. He is moving to the middle of the road and will have to re-think his youth. It comes to all of us and when it reaches him, we shall have a stronger and more understanding man.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TWO GABBY MATRONS in a New England town were gossiping endlessly on a party-line telephone, when they were suddenly interrupted by the unmistakable sound of a receiver being slammed down on the hook.

"Well, how do you like that?" snorted one of the talkers indignantly. "Somebody's hung up on us!"

A customer beckoned the bartender in a Las Vegas gaming room. "Can you change a fifty dollar bill?" he inquired. "My wife's playing the slot machines."

"Sure thing," nodded the bartender. "How do you want it?"

"Humph," mused the customer, "Shall we say two bucks in quarters—and the rest in drinks?"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Doubling Thomas: Do you really need a specimen? It's such a nuisance!

M. D.: Yes! Kidneys pour out hidden health secrets that few people know about.

D. T.: How can you tell?

M. D.: By looking! Dark amber may mean early jaundice or late dehydration. Beets and bleeding can reddens specimens. Smoky cloudiness often hides bleeding or infection.

D. T.: All this without opening the bottle?

M. D.: More! Raging diabetes and ailing kidneys often pour out colorless fluid. Sugary specimens are thick and heavy; ailing kidneys — unable to concentrate fluid — drain almost pure water.

D. T.: Are acid specimens bad?

M. D.: No, normal. Acidity sometimes pinpoints the invading germ in raging bladder infections. Carbon dioxide — trapped in your system by emphysema — increases body acidity.

To regulate this excess, kidneys pour out a strongly acid product.

D. T.: How about albumin?

M. D.: Bleeding and infection anywhere can pour protein — albumin — into the specimen. Ailments like nephritis, high blood pressure and back pressure from failing hearts may force protein through usually closed kidney pores.

If you stand slouched, gravity may drag down albumin. A special protein sometimes signals hidden cancer.

D. T.: And a microscope tells you more?

M. D.: Yes! It uncovers bleeding and infection too tiny for the naked eye. Bleeding from bruises, poisoning, tumors and scraping kidney stones! Remember that protein from anywhere?

D. T.: Yes.

M. D.: Microscopic molds shaped like tiny kidney tubes announce that protein poured through the kidney.

D. T.: Anything else?

M. D.: Lots! Crystals that warn about sulfa drug danger. Others that predict stunted growth. The list goes on and on!

D. T.: Imagine! All without ever examining me!

M. D.: I wouldn't say that. This specimen is part of you that we take to the lab to examine!

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Silver an dgold—paper money and credit —the seesaw relationship of the U. S. dollar to the British pound and the Canadian dollar and the German mark and the Swiss franc.

These are all parts—and often confusing parts—of the big international monetary problem that the central bankers of the Western world are trying to solve.

Their aim is to achieve some stability in world currencies an world trade, to halt or minimize the spasmodic runs on the dollar or pound with an accompanying rush to buy and hoard gold, to keep trade between nations in better balance and thus promote the economic growth of all.

The parts often confuse, even hide, the whole.

Right now the headlines center on these items:

1. The proposed U. S. move away from silver as a backing for part of its currency. The first result is a big upward push in silver prices on the commodity market, with much fluctuation expected to follow.

2. Fresh losses of gold by the U. S. Treasury as Britain buys the metal with spare dollars to bolster Bank of England reserves and protect the pound, recently under attack because of its foreign trade deficit.

3. The drop of the Canadian dollar below 96 American cents for the first time in 10 years.

All of these are expected to have political repercussions here and abroad.

President Kennedy's proposal to demonetize silver entirely, except for coins, by substituting Federal Reserve notes for some $2 billion in paper money now backed by silver seems sure to stir up the embers of historic monetary disputes in Congress.

The loss of gold by the U. S. Treasury is linked to our balance of payment deficit. We are spending more dollars overseas than we are getting back. And efforts to remedy this is stirring up one of the biggest fights in years in Congress over tariffs. Should they be lowered in return for concessions abroad on American exports? Should they be raised to protect domestic industries from foreign imports?

Some experts are suggesting a solution to the many financial problems can be found in establishing an international monetary unit—whether as currency or as central bank credit—to handle exchange procedures, bolster any temporarily threatened national currency, and keep all on as even a keel as possible in this changing world.

But through all these problems there run strong threads of nationalism and national pride.

The chances are the immediate troubles will be trashed out in the upcoming session of the U. S. Congress, in the British House of Commons, in the capitals of the Western European trading bloc.

And all the while you'll be hearing a lot about gold and silver, about tariffs and trade deficits, about possible devaluations of this or that monetary unit, about the flow of short-term investment money from one trading center to another, about spurts of buying or selling of monetary metals in world markets.

New Lounge Wardrobe Sure To Please Co-Eds

By ELEANOR ROSS
The college dorm, with its blend of bedroom and recreation room atmosphere, calls for a special type of sleepwear, and designers have come up with a really brilliant wardrobe for this year's college girl. If a daughter needs to round out her sleep and lounge wardrobe, you'll be able to send along some beauties.

Apparently designers have taken pains to turn out items that are as fashionable as they are pretty and comfortable.

On the theory that college girls do a lot of room - to - room visiting, lounging and studying while dressed for bed, they have dreamed up some very wide - awake - looking pajamas indeed!

Bold colors, avant - garde silhouettes and imaginative trimmings make campus sleepwear more appealing than ever. In fact, much of this sleepwear has been styled even better than sportswear, if that's possible.

What co-ed wouldn't be enchanted with a shocking pink flannel top - styled like a ski jacket with zip front and deep pockets - combined with slim, tapered knit pants. And wouldn't any girl love an overblouse - type cotton denim top with jaunty ruffled sleeves and French poodle appliques, to be worn over slim pants of striped ticking.

Another delightful outfit consists of a red - rose - patterned flannel jacket top mated with black trousers.

All of these pajama combinations have that touch of sophistication so enjoyed by a college girl.

Flannel and cotton knits seem to be the favored fabrics. Both present no laundering problems at all, and now that virtually every dorm has automatic washers and dryers available for use by students, the folks back home no longer need receive those semi - weekly "care packages" that used to be sent home by students, often in lieu of a letter.

Fledgling laundresses need only one caution about the bright and deep - toned pajamas, particularly flannels - these should be washed separately until excess dye has been flushed away by a series of sudsing and rinsing. After that, they can be washed with other bright or deep tones - but not with pastels or whites, of course.

'Christmas-All Through the House' Theme For County Garden Club Council Meeting

Approximately 100 members and guests of the Pickaway County Council of Garden Clubs gathered in the Methodist Church at Derby Monday evening for the fourth annual guest meeting.

The Derby Garden Club was hostess for the affair with seven clubs in the county participating. These included, in addition to the Derby Club, the following clubs: Ashville, Commercial Point, Circleville, Deercreek, Monrovia and Solana.

Miss Florence Brown of the Ashville Garden Club, council president, opened the meeting with a warm welcome extended to those present. Following the welcome, she offered a brief prayer.

Miss Brown then introduced Mrs. Leis Gantz, president of the hostess club, who in turn introduced the speakers for the evening. These included four members of the Derby Valley Garden Club of Harrisburg: Mrs. Ralph Near, Mrs. Allen Grossman, Mrs. Vance Hendricks and Mrs. Dwight Devoss, all Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs, accredited judges of flower shows. They displayed beautiful arrangements and decorations for the holiday season. Their theme was "Christmas - All Through the House".

They began with swags to extend a warm welcome at the front door and proceeded to the entrance hall with arrangements to grace a hall table, followed by wreaths to be hung over the living room mantle, arrangements suitable for coffee tables, the television console and occasional tables.

The dining room was next in order and many beautiful centerpiece for the dining table as well as suitable arrangements for the buffet were demonstrated.

The bedroom also shared in the embellishment of the season with wreaths in pastel colors to adorn the walls and small decorative pieces for bedside tables.

Next the children's room was featured with whimsical Santas, stuffed toys, the Babe in the manger and many other traditional means of telling the story of the birth of Our Savior.

The kitchen also came in for its share of glorification with homespun decorations utilizing old-fashioned nutmeg graters, coal oil lanterns, and all kinds of bric-a-brac which was living proof that a flower arranger never throws anything away. On the contrary, one never knows when that seemingly useless object will be salvaged from the junk pile, given a coat of paint, and with a few baubles and some vivid imagination, once again may be a thing of beauty and bring joy to the beholder.

Last but not least, the back door shared in the holiday spirit by being decorated with candy wreaths and greens that expressed the warm welcome of those inside.

Following the demonstration, the door prizes were awarded and members and guests were invited to the tea table for refreshments. The table was centered with an arrangement of red and white gladioli in a white compote. Mrs. Lewis Gantz and Mrs. Leonard Liff, presided at the tea service.

'Christmas—All Through the House' Theme For County Garden Club Council Meeting

Approximately 100 members and guests of the Pickaway County Council of Garden Clubs gathered in the Methodist Church at Derby Monday evening for the fourth annual guest meeting.

The Derby Garden Club was hostess for the affair with seven clubs in the county participating. These included, in addition to the Derby Club, the following clubs: Ashville, Commercial Point, Circleville, Deer Creek, Monrovia and Soliqua.

Miss Florence Brown of the Ashville Garden Club, council president, opened the meeting with a warm welcome extended to those present. Following the welcome, she offered a brief prayer.

Miss Brown then introduced Mrs. Leis Gantz, president of the hostess club, who in turn introduced the speakers for the evening. These included four members of the Derby Valley Garden Club of Harrisburg; Mrs. Ralph Near, Mrs. Allen Grossman, Mrs. Vance Hendricks and Mrs. Dwight Devoss, all Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs, accredited judges of flower shows. They displayed beautiful arrangements and decorations for the holiday season. Their theme was "Christmas—All Through the House".

They began with swags to extend a warm welcome at the front door and proceeded to the entrance hall with arrangements to grace a hall table, followed by wreaths to be hung over the living room mantle, arrangements suitable for coffee tables, the television console and occasional tables.

The dining room was next in order and many beautiful centerpiece for the dining table as well as suitable arrangements for the buffet were demonstrated.

The bedroom also shared in the embellishment of the season with wreaths in pastel colors to adorn the walls and small decorative pieces for bedside tables.

Next the children's room was featured with whimsical Santas, stuffed toys, the Babe in the manger and many other traditional means of telling the story of the birth of Our Savior.

The kitchen also came in for its share of glorification with homespun decorations utilizing old-fashioned nutmeg graters, coal oil lanterns, and all kinds of bric-a-brac which was living proof that a flower arranger never throws anything away. On the contrary, one never knows when that seemingly useless object will be salvaged from the junk pile, given a coat of paint, and with a few baubles and some vivid imagination, once again may be a thing of beauty and bring joy to the beholder.

Last but not least, the back door shared in the holiday spirit by being decorated with candy wreaths and greens that expressed the warm welcome of those inside.

Following the demonstration, the door prizes were awarded and members and guests were invited to the tea table for refreshments. The table was centered with an arrangement of red and white gladioli in a white compote. Mrs. Lewis Gantz and Mrs. Leonard Liff, presided at the tea service.

KEYS...
TO UNDERSTANDING

Suppose you were given keys that would unlock the mysteries of the universe. With them, you could answer the "whys" that plague all of us. You'd know what was going to happen to you and those around you tomorrow—next month—next year.

Would you use them?

Of course, you say! Think again. And, once you've thought, you might shake your head, hand them back, and say, "No thank you."

Common sense tells us that man was not meant to understand every mystery of life. The reasons "why" remain as they are because our Creator in His wisdom thoroughly knows just how much man can both stand and understand.

God has a greater gift for you than these, or any other keys... the gift of Faith. You will find it by going to church regularly.

KEYS... TO UNDERSTANDING

Suppose you were given keys that would unlock the mysteries of the universe. With them, you could answer the "whys" that plague all of us. You'd know what was going to happen to you and those around you tomorrow—next month—next year.

Would you use them?

Of course, you say! Think again. And, once you've thought, you might shake your head, hand them back, and say, "No thank you."

Common sense tells us that man was not meant to understand every mystery of life. The reasons "why" remain as they are because our Creator in His wisdom thoroughly knows just how much man can both stand and understand.

God has a greater gift for you than these, or any other keys... the gift of Faith. You will find it by going to church regularly.

Growth Through Witnessing

OUR GREAT RESPONSIBILITY AS CHRISTIANS TO BEAR WITNESS TO CHRIST

Scripture—Matthew 5:13-16; Luke 10:1-24; Acts 4:13-21.

By N. SPEER JONES

In this lesson we are given two examples of men sent forth directly by Christ, to bear witness to others on His behalf.
 We have also the exhortation
 by Christ Himself to each one of us to do likewise.

The first example is recorded only in the passage cited from Luke. It took place in Peraea, a region of Palestine east of the Jordan and the Dead Sea, in December 29 A.D.

There Christ appointed 70
 persons to go, two by two, before Him to all the places He planned to visit. They were given power to heal the sick
 and declare that the kingdom of God was near.

The fact that Christ chose 70
 is significant. Previously God had commanded Moses to appoint 70 elders to help him; in imitation of this, the Sanhedrin,

destination. They are to remain in the same house, so that it will not be deemed unworthy.

Chorazin, Bethsaida and Capernaum were three cities in which Christ had not been welcomed; they are compared to ancient Sodom, destroyed in Old Testament days. They will be worse off than Tyre and Sidon
 at the day of judgment, for Tyre and Sidon had not had the opportunities for knowing the Gospel and repenting, as had
 the three cities Christ condemns.

The other example of witnessing is the famous incident recorded in Acts, in which Peter
 and John healed a lame man.
 For this they suffered the first recorded persecution; it was a mild one, as Christianity had not yet become a really obvious threat to those in power.

When called before the San-hedrin the two apostles boldly

high council of Christ's time,
 also consisted of 70 members
 and a president.

That these witnesses were to go two by two meant that they could protect, comfort and communicate with each other; this principle is followed even today.

It is interesting to note that our word apostle comes from the Greek word apostelein, which means "sent."

These men are sent out to help "harvest" others into God's work. Wilbur Smith points out in "Peloubet's Select Notes," p.
 399 that although the harvest
 is the Lord's, it must be reaped with the aid of men; just as food rots if it is not harvested,
 so men decay if their abilities
 are not channeled to the service of God.

The exhortation given these 70 "salute no man on the way" means that they are not to loiter before reaching their destination.

declared that the lame man had been healed by the Christ these Jewish officials had crucified, thereby rejecting God's Redeemer.

Peter and John, in verses 19-20, reiterate the great principle that when any human authority
 commands what seems to us contrary to God, we are not bound to obey this human government, but only God's.

This boldness must be ever watchful and ever present, for it is easy for successful reformers to decay to the point where they themselves need reform.

In His Sermon on the Mount
 (Matthew 5:13-16) Christ reminds us of this fact by likening us to salt, a preservative against corruption; it must not be allowed to lose its savor, for then it will be trodden underfoot and replaced. We are also capable of being the light in a world of spiritual darkness.

We are also capable of being the light in a world of spiritual darkness.

'Liver' Is Substitute Word For Heart in Congo Mission

NEW YORK (AP)—Somewhere
 in the northern Congo a native
 student of the local white missionary reads from his new Bible

the 22nd verse of the 16th chapter of St. John:

"So you have sorrow now," the Lord is saying, "But I will see you again and your livers will rejoice."

And in Matthew 12:34, "These people honor me with their mouths, but their livers are far from me." Again, in John 14:1,
 "Let not your liver be troubled."

Substituting liver for heart in Holy Writ may seem odd, or even sacrilegious, but to the Rev. Dr.
 Eugene A. Nida, secretary for translations of the American Bible Society, it's merely another technique of producing the scriptures in the only language a man may understand.

"English-speaking people talk about the emotional focus of the personality as the heart," Dr.
 Nida explained, "but this is by no means a universal situation."

In fact, the Chujos of Guatemala speak of it as the abdomen, the Marshallese speak of it as the throat, and in some contexts the Totonacs of Mexico may speak of it as the spleen. In several of the Sudanic languages of the Congo, it's the liver.

Dr. Nida is in the United States briefly before continuing his linguistic trouble shooting in remote parts of Mexico, the Philippines, Ecuador and West Africa, to name only a few countries he has scheduled on next year's itinerary.

Since joining the Bible Society in 1943, after receiving his doctorate in linguistics from the University of Michigan, he has visited at least 60 countries, helped with various Bible translation problems in more than 130 languages.

"But that doesn't mean I speak them all" for missionaries of about 100 Protestant denominations and organizations.

His job is to help translators over such hurdles as the liver and heart problem of the Congolese, and his vast experience is of as much value as his formal linguistic training.

Window Washers Set For Cincinnati Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Union window washers in greater Cincinnati have agreed to strike over a wage increase in a new contract.
 The 43 members of Window
 Cleaners Local 158 voted Thursday on a walkout to back up demands for pay increases totaling 20 cents over the next two years.

"Isn't there some responsibility to live with on your income Fisher asked.

"I can't say just yes or no on that," Mrs. Gorman replied. "this is just human need. You cannot say exactly how much money it will take to run the department.
 I feel I have a responsibility to take care of the poor people."

Baha'i Lists

Thought for Day

The local Baha'i Faith group will stress this thought for the week.

"The Faith standing identified with the name of Baha'u'llah dis-claims any intention to belittle any of the Prophets gone before Him,
 to whittle down any of their teachings, or to obscure the radiance
 of their Revelation."

"Repudiating the claim of any religion to be the final revelation of God to man, disclaiming finality for His own Revelation, Bahau'llah inculcates the basic principle of the relativity of religious truth, the continuity of Divine Revelation, the progressiveness of religious experience."

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Dresbach are visiting with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lloyd Dresbach and two sons, at Norwich, Conn.

Growth Through Witnessing

OUR GREAT RESPONSIBILITY AS CHRISTIANS
TO BEAR WITNESS TO CHRIST

Scripture—Matthew 5:13-16; Luke 10:1-24; Acts 4:13-21.

By N. SPEER JONES

In this lesson we are given
two examples of men sent forth
directly by Christ, to bear witness to others on His behalf.
We have also the exhortation
by Christ Himself to each one of us to do likewise.

The first example is recorded only in the passage cited from Luke. It took place in Perea,
a region of Palestine east of the Jordan and the Dead Sea, in December 29 A. D.

There Christ appointed 70
persons to go, two by two, before Him to all the places He planned to visit. They were given power to heal the sick
and declare that the kingdom
of God was near.

The fact that Christ chose 70
is significant. Previously God
had commanded Moses to appoint 70 elders to help him; in imitation of this, the Sanhedrin,

destination. They are to remain in the same house, so that it will not be deemed unworthy.

Chorazin, Bethsaida and Capernaum were three cities in which Christ had not been welcomed; they are compared to ancient Sodom, destroyed in Old Testament days. They will be worse off than Tyre and Sidon
at the day of judgment, for Tyre and Sidon had not had the opportunities for knowing the Gospel and repenting, as had
the three cities Christ condemns.

The other example of witnessing is the famous incident recorded in Acts, in which Peter
and John healed a lame man.
For this they suffered the first recorded persecution; it was a mild one, as Christianity had not yet become a really obvious
threat to those in power.

When called before the San-
hedrin the two apostles boldly

declared that the lame man had been healed by the Christ these Jewish officials had crucified, thereby rejecting God's Re-
deemer.

Peter and John, in verses 19-20, reiterate the great principle that when any human authority
commands what seems to us
contrary to God, we are not bound to obey this human government, but only God's.

This boldness must be ever watchful and ever present, for
it is easy for successful reformers to decay to the point where they themselves need reform.

In His Sermon on the Mount
(Matthew 5:13-16) Christ reminds us of this fact by liking us to salt, a preservative
against corruption; it must not be allowed to lose its savor, for then it will be trodden underfoot and replaced. We are also capable of being the light in a world of spiritual darkness.

The exhortation given these 70 to "salute no man on the way" means that they are not to loiter before reaching their destination.

high council of Christ's time,
also consisted of 70 members
and a president.

That these witnesses were to go two by two meant that they could protect, comfort and communicate with each other; this principle is followed even today.

It is interesting to note that our word apostle comes from the Greek word apostelen, which means "sent."

These men are sent out to help "harvest" others into God's work. Wilbur Smith points out
(in "Peloubet's Select Notes," p.
399) that although the harvest
is the Lord's it must be reaped
with the aid of men; just as
food rots if it is not harvested,
so men decay if their abilities
are not channeled to the service
of God.

The exhortation given these 70 to "salute no man on the way" means that they are not to loiter before reaching their destination.

'Liver' Is Substitute Word For Heart in Congo Mission

NEW YORK (AP)—Somewhere
in the northern Congo a native
student of the local white missionary reads from his new Bible

the 22nd verse of the 16th chapter
of St. John:

"So you have sorrow now," the Lord is saying, "But I will see you again and your livers will rejoice."

And in Matthew 12:34, "These people honor me with their mouths, but their livers are far from me." Again, in John 14:1,
"Let not your liver be troubled."

Substituting liver for heart in Holy Writ may seem odd, or even sacrilegious, but to the Rev. Dr.
Eugene A. Nida, secretary for translations of the American Bible Society, it's merely another technique of producing the scriptures
in the only language a man may understand.

Three of the five members said after a morning hearing that they would like to study the problem until this afternoon or Friday.

They were Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, senate finance committee chairman; Rep. Ralph Fisher, R-Wayne, House finance committee chairman, and C. W.
Goble, representing state Auditor
James A. Rhodes.

Four affirmative votes are required to make the transfer.

Welfare Director Mary Gorman repeated a warning voiced at a Nov. 21 meeting of the board that welfare cuts would have to be made next month unless money from fourth-quarter allotments is made available for immediate use.

She said the cuts would range from about $12 to $8 in December payments for aid to the blind, dependent children and the disabled. She added that old age pension checks would be reduced more than $4.

Mrs. Gorman said also that the state would be obliged to cut reimbursements to counties for poor relief from nearly 48 per cent of local expenditures to 2.3 per cent.

When it was brought out that a transfer of fourth-quarter funds for immediate use would require a similar advance from next year's allocations to cover the transfer, Fisher asked Mrs. Gorman why the welfare department didn't live within its appropriations.

"Isn't there some responsibility to live with your income Fisher asked.

"I can't say just yes or no on that," Mrs. Gorman replied. "This is just human need. You cannot say exactly how much money it
will take to run the department.
I feel I have a responsibility to take care of the poor people."

Baha'i Lists

Thought for Day

The local Baha'i Faith group will stress this thought for the week.

"The Faith standing identified with the name of Baha'u'llah dis-claims any intention to belittle any
of the Prophets gone before Him,
to whittle down any of their teachings, or to obscure the radiance
of their Revelation.

"Repudiating the claim of any religion to be the final revelation
of God to man, disclaiming final-
ity for His own Revelation, Bahau'llah inculcates the basic principle of the relativity of religious truth, the continuity of Divine Revelation, the progressiveness of religious experience."

2 New State Buildings Get Final Approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two new state office buildings, one on each side of the familiar, 30-year-old main Ohio Departments Building, soon will alter Columbus' Scioto River skyline.

Sites for the two new buildings, one for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and one for the Department of Highways, were announced by T. J. Kauer, public works director. The total cost is estimated at $10.2 million — half of it for each of the twin buildings.

The combined space in the two buildings, 200,000 square feet each, will be greater than the main state office building's 385,000 square feet.

Dixie Education Gets Challenge

Economic Growth Tied to Colleges

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Governors, educators and other Southern leaders met here to hear outlined a blueprint that bluntly tied the South's economic destiny to advances in its higher education program.

The comprehensive report was the work of the Commission on Goals for Higher Education in the South, set up by the Southern Regional Education Board.

It proposed a billion dollar increase in spending and boosting of enrollment in Southern colleges and universities to 1.7 million students by 1970. Projected costs would be $2.9 billion. Higher education now costs $1.1 billion a year for 83,000 students.

The report was called "Within our Reach."

"Economically, this region can be one of the most productive areas on earth," the report said. "Culturally, its writers, painters and musicians can bring new glory to American literature, art and music. Intellectually, its colleges and universities can be increasingly become preeminent centers of learning and leadership."

The commission proposed "a partnership of Southern higher education, business, industry and government to promote the growth of professional and technical manpower, to provide the research necessary for full development of resources and speed the economic progress of the region."

If the South fails to cultivate its intellectual resources, the report said, "it must abandon hope of directing its own economic destiny."

The report was released at a special conference called by the Southern Regional Education Board, a cooperative group drawing membership from 16 states.

New Film List Is Available

A new list of films available for programs and meetings was announced today by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

These films are listed in the new "Film Library" which outlines not only films, but programs of general interest which are available as a free service to schools and organizations in the Company's service area.

Some of the outstanding films listed in the catalog are a series of eight Walt Disney Science Productions covering such subjects as weather satellites, moon flights, space flights, and space medicine. Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

She Has 'Child-Mares'

DEAR ABBY: I am positively going out of my mind over a situation that has developed at my place of work. A woman who works with me constantly brags about her children. Abby, no matter what the topic of conversation is, she turns it back to her children. Their honors, their brilliance, their popularity, their superiority!

It is affecting my work. Other people in the office feel the same way about her, but no one wants to tell her what a bore she is for fear of hurting her feelings. Is there a solution?

FED UP TO HERE

DEAR FED UP: You can (1) avoid her as much as possible.

(2) Level with her in a "friendly" way by telling her that she is overdoing the "commercials" on her children and, unless she wants to be entirely without friends, she should cut it out.

DEAR ABBY: I gave my boy

Parliament

On Birthday

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill walked into the House of Commons Wednesday and the mother of parliaments stopped all business to cheer him on his 87th birthday.

Entering the House—after a luncheon of oysters and lamb chops, washed down by champagne—Britain's great wartime leader made the customary bow to the speaker.

At the sight of Churchill, his fellow Conservatives and opposition Laborites filled the hall with cheers.

Even the spectators' gallery joined the cheering. This is decidedly against the rules—but the speaker made no move to halt it.

His eyes filled with tears, Sir Winston—who had reached his seat during the cheering—slowly rose. With the aid of his walking stick, he stood upright, then bowing to his fellow Conservatives and to the opposition, said: "I am very grateful to the House."

This was the signal for more cheering. The scene was made more colorful as the members picked up their order papers and waved them like schoolboys.

After his brief remark, Sir Winston sat down. Feeling fine and looking his old self, Sir Winston's 87th birthday was one of his busiest in years. It was an action-packed day that would have staggered most men his age.

10-25-Year Term

Is Given Robber

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Cleveland man was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary Wednesday in common pleas court in connection with the daylight armed robbery of a Columbus family.

Cowan Robert Lee, 43, was given a 10-25 year term after being found guilty of being one of three men accused of staging the hold-up Aug. 8, 1960.

Police charged Lee was one of three men who entered the home of Aaron Brown posing as Internal Revenue agents. They fled with $10,000 in cash and $3,500 in jewelry. Lee's accomplices have never been found.

friend a big colored picture of myself for Christmas last year. Now we have broken up and I would like to have my picture back. Would it be all right for me to write to him and ask him to send it back? He has no use for it. He lives 150 miles away.

JUDI

DEAR JUDI: It was more than a "picture" — it was a Christmas present. Let him keep it.

DEAR ABBY: We live in a small town and my problem is becoming so serious I think I will not have any peace of mind unless we move. We have four children (I will not mention their ages, but they are now all in school). There are four other children in the same school who look so much like my children that the teachers and students are forever getting them mixed up. Two of these children (not mine) were "adopted" and the other two are children of two families with whom my husband and I have had friendships of long standing.

People laugh and joke and gossip about this "coincidence." My husband laughs, too. But to tell the truth, Miss Van Buren, I can't hold up my head any more.

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN DOUBT: I don't know what your husband does for a living, but whatever he does, he can do it in another town. Ask him to quit laughing and start thinking about relocating.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

Mrs. Lawrence Hoover thanked members for the planter and who sent her cards during her illness. Worthy lecturer, Helen Hoover, presented the program, "Do You Just Belong?" by Louise Fisher.

A lengthy discussion, was led by Harold Richards, on the topic "Land and Water Resources", and many important questions were answered.

The thought for the day was "A Merry Heart Doeth Good Like Medicine."

The hospitality committee, with Bernice Speakman as chairman, served a lunch. The tables were decorated with mums, a large collection of goods and a cornucopia of fruit.

Dixie Education Gets Challenge

Economic Growth
Tied to Colleges

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Governors, educators and other Southern leaders met here to hear outlined a blueprint that bluntly tied the South's economic destiny to advances in its higher education program.

The comprehensive report was the work of the Commission on Goals for Higher Education in the South, set up by the Southern Regional Education Board.

It proposed a billion dollar increase in spending and boosting of enrollment in Southern colleges and universities to 1.7 million students by 1970. Projected costs would be $2.9 billion. Higher education now costs $1.1 billion a year for 83,000 students.

The report was called "Within our Reach."

"Economically, this region can be one of the most productive areas on earth," the report said. "Culturally, its writers, painters and musicians can bring new glory to American literature, art and music. Intellectually, its colleges and universities can increasingly become preeminent centers of learning and leadership."

The commission proposed "a partnership of Southern higher education, business, industry and government to promote the growth of professional and technical manpower, to provide the research necessary for full development of resources and speed the economic progress of the region."

If the South fails to cultivate its intellectual resources, the report said, "it must abandon hope of directing its own economic destiny."

The report was released at a special conference called by the Southern Regional Education Board, a cooperative group drawing membership from 16 states.

CONCENTRATION — Dave Hann, stalwart at quarterback for the CHS football Tigers, switches sports with the greatest of ease as the varsity basketballers set for opening foe Franklin Heights tonight in an SCOL match.

HOOP HUDDLE — Plotting the strategy they hope will bring Circleville a win in the season's first varsity basketball scrap tonight at Franklin Heights are these probable starters selected by coach Jack Weikert: (left to right), Luther Johnson, guard, Dick Kline, center, Sam Weller and Bob Waple, forwards, and Jim Wellington, guard. SCOL Cage Year Will Open Tonight

The South Central Ohio League basketball campaign begins in full force tonight, with all eight loop teams in action and the promise of one of the most exciting flag races in years enlivening the conversation of fans throughout the circuit.

Circleville's hardcourt Tigers kick things off with a tilt at Franklin Heights against an untested Falcon five. Early scouting reports have indicated the Heights crew lacks exceptional speed or shooting prowess, but CHS mentor Jack Weikert is taking no chances.

The Bengals, after a lack-lustre 3-15 campaign last season, show signs of becoming a contender in this year's SCOL chase. Much of the Tigers success will depend on their ability to operate smoothly coordinated plays, since height and speed are both just "average."

Over Wilmington way, the defending league champion Hurricane opens its bid to retain the crown against Greenfield. The Clinton County cagers own the advantage of having one game under their belts. Wilmington was edged 63-61 by Xenia on Nov. 25.

MIAMI TRACE, a team that crowned Clarksburg 56-49 in the season's opener Nov. 22, is braced to host another undefeated club, Pleasant View. The Panthers notched a 54-47 victory over Darby's Trojans in a pre-Thanksgiving contest.

Washington C. H., singing the blues after learning 62" Bob Williams had been declared ineligible for scholastic reasons, goes to Hillsboro to face a team that may surprise in the countdown for league honors. Williams had been expected to provide much of the Blue Lions scoring and Coach Gene Millard said only "Maybe he will be available later in the season."

No league action has been scheduled for Saturday night but two clubs, including Circleville, take on non-loop opponents. The Tigers match shots with Lancaster in the first CHS home bout. Franklin Heights returns to the Columbus area basketball orbit, hosting Grove City.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns have been working on a defense against the "shotgun" formation at preparation for their game with the Cowboys at Dallas Sunday afternoon.

Army-Navy Tilt Winner May Go To Rose Bowl

Collegiate Football To Wind Up Regular Campaign on Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The 1961 college football season finishes its regular campaign on Saturday with its annual military maneuver in gigantic Philadelphia Stadium when Army meets Navy before President Kennedy and 102,000 fans.

Indications are that one of the two service schools may get to play UCLA in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day in one of two bowl spots to be decided as the curtain falls on another hectic season. If it isn't a service academy, it will probably be either Minnesota or Michigan State of the Big Ten.

The other is the Bluebonnet Bowl spot left open for Rice (6-3) if it wins over Baylor (5-4). The latter already is ticketed for New York's Gotham Bowl against Utah State, win, lose or draw.

Alabama's Crimson Tide (9-1), playing Auburn, could land the No. 1 spot in next week's final Associated Press poll, and with it the mythical national title, plus a share of the Southeastern Conference title with Louisiana State.

The Tide has already indicated it will go to the Sugar Bowl to face Arkansas, making the announcement official after its game against Auburn. The Auburn Tigers (6-3), incidentally, are hoping for a Rice defeat that could send them into the Bluebonnet Bowl against Kansas.

Mississippi, ranked fifth, and sixth-ranked Colorado are the only other of the elite to see action. The Rebels (8-1) play Mississippi State (5-4) and are expected to announce acceptance of a Cotton Bowl bid to play Texas on New Year's Day.

Colorado, 8-1, with the Big Eight Title and a trip to the Orange Bowl all wrapped up, plays Air Force (3-6). Two other bowl clubs also get their last regular season tests, Georgia Tech, 6-3, and set to face Penn State in the Gator Bowl, meets Georgia (3-6), and Miami (Fla. 6-3), and ticketed for a Dec. 16 date against Syracuse in Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl, plays Florida (4-4-1).

Other closing day games have Notre Dame facing Duke, North Carolina against Virginia, Holy Cross meeting Boston College, SMU playing Texas Christian, Oklahoma looking for its fifth straight victory after five opening losses against Oklahoma State, Oregon State at Houston and Tennessee facing Vanderbilt.

There's also the little Army-Navy game between Pennsylvania Military College and Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy. What makes this one so noteworthy is that it is being played indoors, before a sellout crowd of 12,200 in Atlantic City's mammoth Convention Hall.

Bowling Green Grid Captains Are Named

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Bob Fearnside junior quarterback from Toledo, and Gary Sherman, junior guard from Bellaire, will be the co-captains on the 1962 Bowling Green football team.

They were named Thursday night at the school's fall sports banquet at which senior tackle Jerry Croft of Cleveland was announced most valuable player and the most valuable lineman on the 1961 team.

Four of the six teams in the National Hockey League have new captains this season.

Ohio High School Football Oddities Still Being Recalled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school athletes are playing basketball now—but they still are talking about some of the season's football oddities.

For instance: Wilmington won the toss prior to each of its 10 games (someone figured the odds were 1,024 to 1 against it).

Jack Coneby, Springfield South's drum major, after being given a big opening game buildup by the public address announcer, slipped and fell on the seat of his pants as he pranced into position in front of the band. And Lima Central Catholic's half-time band show was too long in the Delphos St. John game—the team getting a 15-yard penalty and being forced to kick off from its own 25-yard line.

Mansfield punted from the end zone against Massillon, and although the ball wasn't blocked in any way, lineman Ken Ivan of the Tigers took it from the air and scored with a six (correct) yard punt return—probably the shortest such run in history.

Maumee defeated Perrysburg 16-14 with a field goal in the last 40 seconds; Perrysburg defeated Genoa with a field goal with 11 seconds to play, and Genoa booted a field goal to trim Maumee 3-0, rounding out a unique round-robin.

Bob VanLancker of Class A Brookside (Lorain County) punted from his own end zone to the other end zone—more than 100 yards. P.S.—He had a tail wind aiding him.

Telephones from the press box to the bench sometimes fail to function for visiting teams, leading to reports of tampering. But when Mansfield played at Lakewood, the home two bench phones went awry and the ranger coaches resorted to sign language.

Will Paisley, plucked from the hallways in mid-season, booted 16 of 17 extra points for Massillon—including the one-point clinchers over Parma and Canton McKinley. Devastating block! Krist Jake of Berea pulled out from his guard spot to lead a sweep around end against Brush. He upset the left end, rolled and cut down the line-baker, defensive halfback and safety man. All five, including Jake, were in a pile as the runner skirted them for a 54-yard score.

Complaining of a headache, an overweight Bowling Green player asked his coach for an aspirin. "No," said the coach, "if you have a headache there's probably a reason. What does it usually mean when you have a headache?" The youngster replied: "It means I'm hungry."

A Hamilton player, kidding a team mate about being dumb, said, "I'll bet you don't have an I.Q. of 16." The other retorted: "The doctor told me I have 20-20."

Fred Robinson, Cuyahoga Falls captain, broke a leg before the first game and was out all year. In the final contest he was sent in to hold for an extra-point try. He took the pass from center, held it perfectly, then rushed up to the

Patterson's Challenger Feels Tension

TORONTO (AP)—The pressure building up within was beginning to show on challenger Tom McNeely Jr., as the date drew closer for his title fight with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Although admitting "growing tension" the unbeaten, 24-year-old husky from Arlington, Mass., still spoke confidently today of knocking out the champion next Monday night.

Even reports of Patterson's blazing final boxing workout on Thursday failed to shake the optimism of the crewcut 200-pounder.

"Patterson can be hit and Patterson goes down," said McNeely. "The record proves that, Ingemar Johansson has had him down nine times alone. Roy Harris dropped him and even Pete Rademacher had him down. If I get him down, I'm going to keep him down."

"My two hands are better than just Johansson's right. I know what Patterson can do and when he is vulnerable. He can be had early and the earlier I hit him the better it will be for me."

McNeely, who finished his boxing drills last Sunday, laughed off statements of Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, that he has been boxing secretly.

"That's a big joke," he said. "I've boxed more than 500 rounds since last April and that's plenty. All I want to do now is be ready. I don't want to go stale."

McNeely merely limbered up and went through calisthenics Thursday while Patterson boxed two rounds.

Eleven members of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League played college football in Texas.

Nine members of the Green Bay Packers played football at Big Ten schools.

Juniors, Frosh Mark Victories

The numerals were slightly reduced as the result of the same in both the junior high and freshman tests between Circleville and Lancaster General Sherman.

The teams came off as winners. The junior high cagers capped Sherman by a 36-24 count behind the 18-point performance of Howard Dade while Circleville's frosh downed their foes by a 34-26 margin as John Thomas poured through 12 counters.

Circleville lead all the way in the junior high match, holding a 10-4 advantage at the end of the first quarter, 21-11 at the half, 25-18 in the third period and the final 36-24. In the freshmen game Sherman led 6-4 at the end of the opening period but trailed 17-12 at the half. Circleville stayed in front after the third stanza, 23-18.

Scoring for the juniors were Stonerock, 3-0-6; Iery, 1-1-3; Dade, 8-2-18; Speakman, 2-0-4; Bass, 0-2-2; Strawser, 1-0-2; and Steve Dade, 0-1-1.

For the frosh: Thomas, 4-4-12; C. Iery, 3-4-10; Martin, 0-1-1; Roth, 2-2-6; and Maxwell, 2-1-5.

Cincinnati Bearcats Select Grid Captains

CINCINNATI (AP)—Guard Rufus Simmons of Steubenville, a defensive linebacker, is the first Negro football co-captain in Cincinnati.

He was named to head the Bearcats in 1962 with Phil Goldner, fullback from Tipp City who led the team in ground gaining this fall. The announcement came at the school's annual football dinner Thursday night.

CONCENTRATION — Dave Hannahs, stalwart at quarterback for the CHS football Tigers, switches sports with the greatest of ease as the varsity basketballers set for opening foe Franklin Heights tonight in an SCOL match.

FREDDIE FIRES—Fred Moore, in contention for a starting berth with the Tiger varsity cage five, shows the layup form that marks him as a player to watch during the 1961-62 campaign. Moore is a junior.

SCOL Cage Year Will Open Tonight

The South Central Ohio League basketball campaign begins in full force tonight, with all eight loop teams in action and the promise of one of the most exciting flag races in years enlivening the conversation of fans throughout the circuit.

Circleville's hardcourt Tigers kick things off with a tilt at Franklin Heights against an untested Falcon five. Early scouting reports have indicated the Heights crew lacks exceptional speed or shooting prowess, but CHS mentor Jack Weikert is taking no chances.

The Bengals, after a lack-luster 3-15 campaign last season, show signs of becoming a contender in this year's SCOL chase. Much of the Tigers' success will depend on their ability to operate smoothly coordinated plays, since height and speed are both just "average."

Over Wilmington way, the defending league champion Hurricane opens its bid to retain the crown against Greenfield. The Clinton County cagers own the advantage of having one game under their belts. Wilmington was edged 63-61 by Xenia on Nov. 25.

MIAMI TRACE, a team that crowned Clarkburg 56-49 in the season's opener Nov. 22, is braced to host another undefeated club, Pleasant View. The Panthers notched a 54-47 victory over Darby's Trojans in a pre-Thanksgiving contest.

Washington C. H., singing the blues after learning 62" Bob Williams had been declared ineligible for scholastic reasons, goes to Hillsboro to face a team that may surprise in the countdown for league honors. Williams had been expected to provide much of the Blue Lions scoring and Coach Gene Millard said only "Maybe he will be available later in the season."

No league action has been scheduled for Saturday night but two clubs, including Circleville, take on non-loop opponents. The Tigers match shots with Lancaster in the first CHS home bout. Franklin Heights returns to the Columbus area basketball orbit, hosting Grove City.

Cowboys' 'Shotgun' Studied by Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns have been working on a defense against the "shotgun" formation in preparation for their game with the Cowboys at Dallas Sunday afternoon.

Dallas utilized the shotgun, which has the passer all alone as a deep back, almost a third of the time in their last game with the Philadelphia Eagles. The Cowboys had receivers in the clear, but they couldn't hang onto the football.

line and threw a block against an unsuspecting Canton Timken lineman—his only contact of the entire campaign.

Ohio College Cage Wars Under Way

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate cage wars plunge headlong into the 1961-62 basketball season this weekend.

Seven games are on an abbreviated card tonight, but heavy firing begins in earnest Saturday.

The headlines tonight find Otterbein at Miami and Ashland at Bluffton in a Mid-Ohio League tiff.

Defiance, last year's king in the Mid-Ohio League, got off to a good start Wednesday with a 78-68 win over Grace of Indiana.

All the other Buckeye conference champions swing into action Saturday as part of a whopping 28-game program.

Wittenberg, the Ohio Conference titlist, has a monumental task when the Tigers open against Louisville on the road. Mid-American Conference champ Ohio University journeys to Buffalo to battle Canisius, and Case Tech, the Presidents' Conference kingpin, visits Wayne.

The state's Big Two, Ohio State and Cincinnati, have relatively easy inaugurations against Florida State and Indiana State, respectively. The Bearcats will open defense of their NCAA crown while the Bucks seek a third straight Big Ten title.

Dayton, consistently a powerful independent, should have no trouble with Christian Brothers of Memphis, Tenn.

Other attractions have rugged Bradley meeting Bowling Green, Miami playing at Kentucky, American University at Akron, Morris Harvey at Toledo, Kent State at St. Bonaventure, Marietta at Marshall and St. Vincent at Steubenville.

In a couple of Ohio Conference contests, Muskingum will oppose Hiram and Ohio Wesleyan plays at Oberlin. John Carroll meets Western Reserve in a Presidents' loop skirmish.

Strong Xavier has its opening Sunday in a home engagement against Bellarmine.

Evidence points to another big year for Buckeye schools with Ohio State and Cincinnati ranked 1-2 in pre-season polls.

Coach Fred Taylor has All-America Jerry Lucas, John Havlicek and Mel Nowell returning for their final season, while Cincinnati relies on 6-foot-9 Paul Hogue, Tony Yates and Tom Thacker to keep the Bearcats on top.

Xavier, with Jack Thobe and Bill Kirvin leading a pack of eight returning lettermen, and Dayton, with Garry Roggenbuck and Tom Hatton showing the way, could threaten the leaders.

Gotham Bowl Foes: Utah State, Baylor

NEW YORK (AP) — New York finally has a bowl game. It's the Gotham Bowl, to be played in the Polo Grounds Dec. 9.

Opponents for the game—originally planned as a contest of major Eastern teams—are Utah State and Baylor. The game was finalized Wednesday when Baylor accepted an invitation.

Utah State must rank with the best in the nation. It owns a 9-0-1 record, is third in the country in total offense and second in total defense. Baylor has only a 5-4 record with one game to go, but owns one of the nation's best backs in Ronnie Bull.

Jockey Willie Shoemaker won his third Pimlico Futurity in five years when he recently led Crimson Satan to a five-length triumph. Shoe won with Jewel's Reward in '57 and Intentionally in '58.

Ohio College Cage Wars Under Way

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate cage wars plunge headlong into the 1961-62 basketball season this weekend.

Seven games are on an abbreviated card tonight, but heavy firing begins in earnest Saturday.

The headlines tonight find Otterbein at Miami and Ashland at Bluffton in a Mid-Ohio League tiff.

Defiance, last year's king in the Mid-Ohio League, got off to a good start Wednesday with a 78-68 win over Grace of Indiana.

All the other Buckeye conference champions swing into action Saturday as part of a whopping 28-game program.

Wittenberg, the Ohio Conference titlist, has a monumental task when the Tigers open against Louisville on the road. Mid-American Conference champ Ohio University journeys to Buffalo to battle Canisius, and Case Tech, the Presidents' Conference kingpin, visits Wayne.

The state's Big Two, Ohio State and Cincinnati, have relatively easy inaugurations against Florida State and Indiana State, respectively. The Bearcats will open defense of their NCAA crown while the Bucks seek a third straight Big Ten title.

Dayton, consistently a powerful

independent, should have no trouble with Christian Brothers of Memphis, Tenn.

Other attractions have rugged Bradley meeting Bowling Green, Miami playing at Kentucky, American University at Akron, Morris Harvey at Toledo, Kent State at St. Bonaventure, Marietta at Marshall and St. Vincent at Steubenville.

In a couple of Ohio Conference contests, Muskingum will oppose Hiram and Ohio Wesleyan plays at Oberlin. John Carroll meets Western Reserve in a Presidents' loop skirmish.

Strong Xavier has its opening Sunday in a home engagement against Bellarmine.

Evidence points to another big year for Buckeye schools with Ohio State and Cincinnati ranked 1-2 in pre-season polls.

Coach Fred Taylor has All-America Jerry Lucas, John Havlicek and Mel Nowell returning for their final season, while Cincinnati relies on 6-foot-9 Paul Hogue, Tony Yates and Tom Thacker to keep the Bearcats on top.

Xavier, with Jack Thobe and Bill Kirvin leading a pack of eight returning lettermen, and Dayton, with Garry Roggenburg and Tom Hatton showing the way, could threaten the leaders.

Cruiser Relay Rushes Plasma To Ailing Boy

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Eleven-year-old Dennis Light was reported in satisfactory condition at Blanchard Valley Hospital Thursday night after relays of law officers raced 120 miles to bring him three pints of frozen blood plasma.

The boy suffers from hemophilia, an ailment in which a minor injury can produce excessive bleeding. Frozen plasma designed especially for hemophilia cases was called for after Dennis suffered a sudden massive hemorrhage Thursday.

The bleeding apparently was caused by an unintentional kick in the face from one of the boy's playmates. About 3 p.m. his physician told the Red Cross Dennis might bleed to death if he didn't get the plasma by 6 p.m.

The plasma was in Cleveland. Cleveland police picked it up at the Central Blood Bank and rushed it to Brecksville, where members of that police department took over and carried the plasma to the Ohio Turnpike. There, a highway patrol car was waiting to race to Findlay with the plasma.

Poor Service On NYC Line Is Claimed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus utilities director says the New York Central Railroad lost money on one of three trains it discontinued because "the people just couldn't depend on prompt service."

The Director, C. Howard Johnson Jr., added that poor judgment was another factor behind the railroad taking a loss on that train, No. 321 between Cleveland and Columbus. He said the NYC stopped hauling express and mail on this train more than a year ago, thus losing a large portion of revenue.

Johnson testified Thursday at an Ohio Public Utilities Commission hearing on the discontinuance of NYC trains 321, 322 and 332 on the Cleveland - Columbus - Cincinnati route.

The railroad withdrew them Sept. 10, claiming it was operating at a loss in excess of $150,000 in one year's time.

But Johnson told the commission that 322 and 323 were operating at a profit. He said, "A survey conducted nine days prior to the discontinuance indicates that a daily average of 163 persons rode the 322, and 168 rode the 323."

To this, NYC attorney A. Compton Russell replied that the nine-day period was not justifiable because it represented the heavier than normal traffic of the Labor Day weekend and students returning to school.

A utilities commission audit of the railroad's books from July 1, 1960, to last June 30 backed up the NYC's claim that it was losing money on the trains.

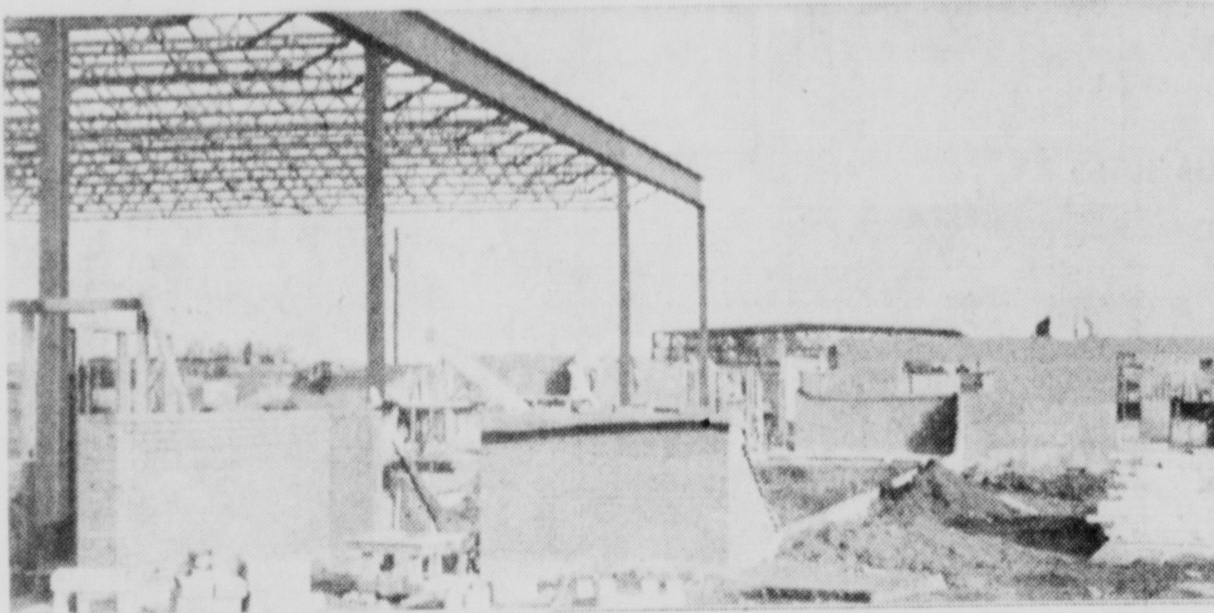

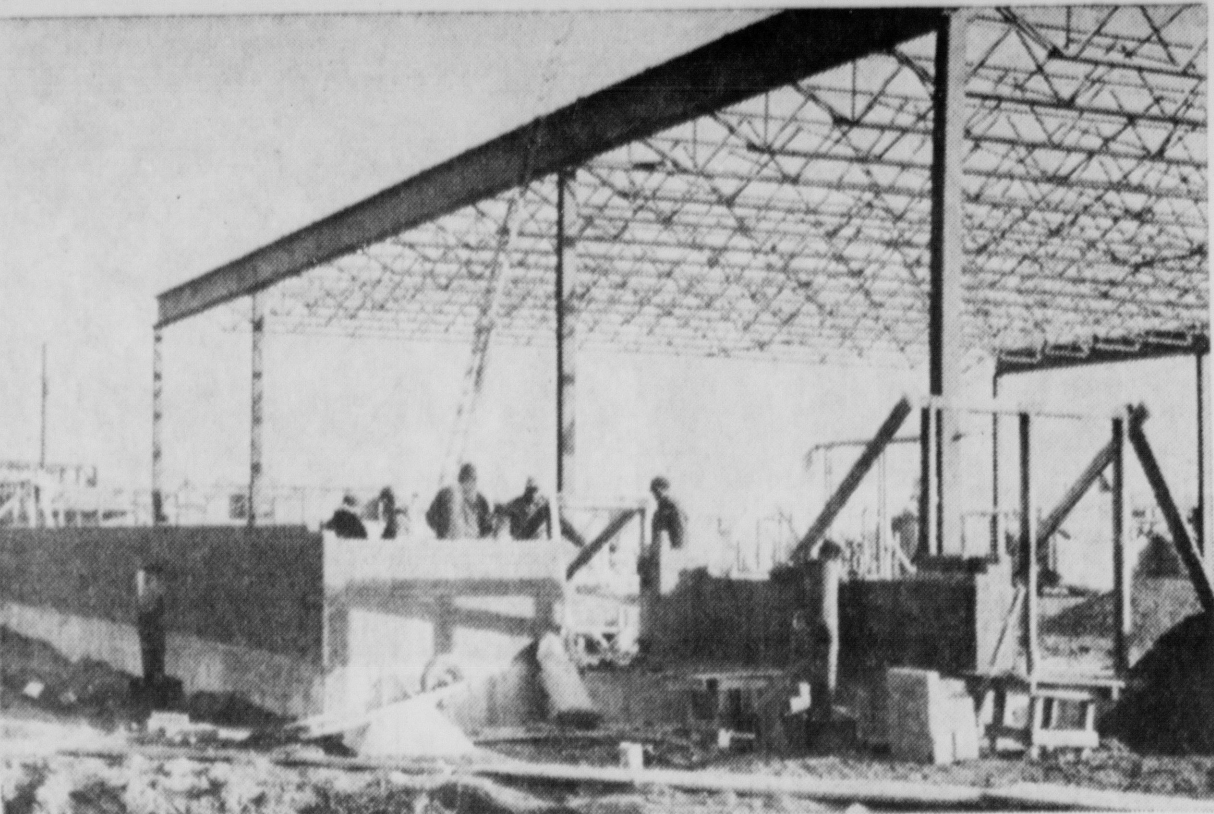

The railroad gets a chance to present its side of the case at a hearing Dec. 12-14.

TWO VIEWS OF TEAYS VALLEY — Rising on a 60-acre tract at the outskirts of Ashville is the huge new Teays Valley High School, scheduled to begin educational operations in the fall of 1962. The school, a steel frame and buff brick structure reinforced by a base of concrete block, will house classes now conducted in Scioto, Walnut and Ashville high schools. It has been designed as one of the most modern facilities of its kind in the area and is being built under a $1,760,000 bond issue approved more than a year ago by district voters. Photos show girders for new gymnasium and classroom wing as well as background outline of the auditorium's steel frame. (Staff Photos)

Teays Valley High School Plant Taking Form

"I wish I could have gone to school in a building like this."

The speaker was a construction worker shoveling dirt at the site of the new Teays Valley High School on Route 752 just northeast of Ashville.

The building, although but half completed and not scheduled for opening until September of 1962, does create an impression as it takes shape week after week. The steel beams and crossbars that mark the beginnings of the gymnasium and auditorium give a broad, balanced appearance to the face of the school.

Cruiser Relay
Rushes Plasma
To Ailing Boy

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Eleven-year-old Dennis Light was reported in satisfactory condition at Blanchard Valley Hospital Thursday night after relays of law officers raced 120 miles to bring him three pints of frozen blood plasma.

The boy suffers from hemophilia, an ailment in which a minor injury can produce excessive bleeding. Frozen plasma designed especially for hemophilia cases was called for after Dennis suffered a sudden massive hemorrhage Thursday.

The bleeding apparently was caused by an unintentional kick in the face from one of the boy's playmates. About 3 p.m. his physician told the Red Cross Dennis might bleed to death if he didn't get the plasma by 6 p.m.

The plasma was in Cleveland. Cleveland police picked it up at the Central Blood Bank and rushed it to Brecksville, where members of that police department took over and carried the plasma to the Ohio Turnpike. There, a highway patrol car was waiting to race to Findlay with the plasma.

Poor Service
On NYC Line
Is Claimed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus utilities director says the New York Central Railroad lost money on one of three trains it discontinued because "the people just couldn't depend on prompt service."

The Director, C. Howard Johnson Jr., added that poor judgment was another factor behind the railroad taking a loss on that train, No. 321 between Cleveland and Columbus. He said the NYC stopped hauling express and mail on this train more than a year ago, thus losing a large portion of revenue.

Johnson testified Thursday at an Ohio Public Utilities Commission hearing on the discontinuance of NYC trains 321, 322 and 323 on the Cleveland - Columbus - Cincinnati route.

The railroad withdrew them Sept. 10, claiming it was operating them at a loss in excess of $150,000 in one year's time.

But Johnson told the commission that 322 and 323 were operating at a profit. He said, "A survey conducted nine days prior to the discontinuance indicates that a daily average of 163 persons rode the 322, and 168 rode the 323."

To this, NYC attorney A. Compton Russell replied that the nine-day period was not justifiable because it represented the heavier than normal traffic of the Labor Day weekend and students returning to school.

A utilities commission audit of the railroad's books from July 1, 1960, to last June 30 backed up the NYC's claim that it was losing money on the trains.

The railroad gets a chance to present its side of the case at a hearing Dec. 12-14.

TWO VIEWS OF TEAYS VALLEY — Rising on a 60-acre tract at the outskirts of Ashville is the huge new Teays Valley High School, scheduled to begin educational operations in the fall of 1962. The school, a steel frame and buff brick structure reinforced by a base of concrete block, will house classes now conducted in Scioto, Walnut and Ashville high schools. It has been designed as one of the most modern facilities of its kind in the area and is being built under a $1,760,000 bond issue approved more than a year ago by district voters. Photos show girders for new gymnasium and classroom wing as well as background outline of the auditorium's steel frame. (Staff Photos)

Teays Valley High School Plant Taking Form

The speaker was a construction worker shoveling dirt at the site of the new Teays Valley High School on Route 752 just northeast of Ashville.

The building, although but half completed and not scheduled for opening until September of 1962, does create an impression as it takes shape week after week. The steel beams and crossbraces that mark the beginnings of the gymnasium and auditorium give a broad, balanced appearance to the face of the school.
